MILTON YOUNG TO SPEAK HERE ON SATURDAY

Candidate for Governor to Talk at Dinner and at Orange County Fair

MILTON K. YOUNG, candidate for governor of California on the Democratic ticket, will spend Saturday evening and Sunday morning in Orange county, making three addresses here.

Young will be the principal speaker at a public dinner at St. Ann's Inn at 6 o'clock Saturday evening. The public is invited to attend the dinner but is urged to make reservations not later than Friday evening.

At the dinner at the Inn Young will make known his stand on state issues for the first time. Considerable interest is being expressed in the wet and dry issue and for that reason the entire state is awaiting the announcement. Horace C. Head, chairman of Young for Governor Club of Orange County, will introduce the speaker.

Following his address at the Inn Young will go to the Orange County Fair grounds where he will be the speaker of the evening in front of the grandstand. He will begin his address at 8 o'clock. He also will be introduced by Horace Head.

On Sunday morning, at 9:30 o'clock Young, will address the members of the Men's Community Bible class at the West End theater.

Secretary Jordan Issues Last Call To State Voters

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 1.—(UP)—With Saturday the final day of registration for the November general election, Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan today issued a "last call" for voters of the state to put their names on the registration books.

Asserting the citizens who fail to register and vote "have no right to complain through four years of administration," Jordan said "it is the duty of all qualified citizens to register and vote."

Belief that the total registration for the next election will eclipse the record total of 1928 presidential election was also expressed by Jordan.

COURT DISMISSES MURDER CHARGE AGAINST RIDENOUR

Judge Rules Evidence Is Insufficient

Deputy Sheriff Gives Only Direct Story of Killing

LAWRENCE M. RIDENOUR, 62-year-old Stanton service station operator, charged with the murder of Harvey Counts, 56, in his gasoline station on September 22, walked out of Justice Kenneth Morrison's court shortly before noon today, a free man, the court having dismissed the murder charge on motion of Attorney D. G. Wettlin, Ridenour's attorney, on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Wettlin, prepared to use self defense as an alibi for the defendant, fought desperately against allowing F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, to testify as to a purported conversation he had with Ridenour, soon after the shooting, which was the only evidence the district attorney's office could offer that connected the defendant with the shooting.

In spite of evidence Howard gave, after Wettlin's objection was overruled, Justice Morrison held that the evidence was insufficient to hold the defendant to the superior court on a murder count.

Howard's testimony regarding the shooting is the first official story of what happened in the rear of Ridenour's Stanton service station. The officer testified that he talked with Ridenour while he was bringing him to the county jail shortly after noon on September 22.

"Ridenour told me that the argument between him and Counts started over the price of gasoline in front of his place of business. He said that Counts had been drinking and that he told him to go home and settle the bill later when he was in more of a condition to talk about it," Howard testified.

"Ridenour said that as the argument progressed, he (Counts) became abusive and argued with him. He said he then backed into his service station and back behind a counter, with Counts following him. As he went behind the counter, Ridenour said, he pocketed a pistol which was lying under a counter and then kept going to the rear room of the service station."

DOG'S BITE FATAL TO VICTOR VENER

A little gash on the cheek, caused by his playful little dog, while he was frolicking with it at his home, two weeks ago today, was held as the cause for the death of Victor Vener, 39, of 1726 West Third street, at the St. Joseph's hospital at 2 o'clock this morning.

Vener paid no attention to the small scratch at the time and allowed it to become infected, it was reported. Several days ago he was removed to the hospital and since that time his condition has grown steadily worse, it was reported.

The gash was made by the teeth of the animal, but death was due to tetanus rather than rabies, it was reported.

Vener was a contractor here, and was well known. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Guadalupe Vener, and one brother, Jack Vener, of Santa Ana.

Funeral services will be held under the direction of the Winbigler Funeral home, Friday at 10 a. m. Burial will be made in the Santa Ana cemetery.

MARY GARDEN PLANS MAKING SOUND FILM

PARIS, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Mary Garden will undergo screen tests with the view of making opera sound films when she returns to New York soon, she said today when she arrived from the Riviera en route to Chicago.

Miss Garden's capitulation to the talking screen followed a 3000-franc telephone conversation to New York, she said. If the screen tests are successful, she expects to sign a long contract with a "record breaking" salary.

KNIFED CONVICT IS EXPECTED TO LIVE

FOLSOM PRISON, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Tony De Julio, San Francisco convict who has been in a critical condition from knife wounds received Monday, probably will recover, prison physicians announced today.

Meanwhile, Warden Court Smith continued his efforts to penetrate the silence surrounding De Julio since the attack. Five prisoners held in the "back alley" as suspects, have failed to disclose any information in the stabbing affray, Smith said.

De Julio, 27, was convicted of attempted burglary in San Francisco in 1929, receiving the maximum sentence of 20 years. He previously had served a prison term in Utah.

OIL LEASES IN WEST WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Charges of Maladministration of Shale Lands to Be Probe Subject

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(UP)—The whole subject of western oil leases may be opened to federal investigation because of Ralph Kelley's charges of maladministration of Colorado oil shale lands by the interior department.

The inquiry had broadened to a triple front today, the department of justice machinery being added to Secretary of Interior Wilbur's own investigation and the moves by Chairman Nye of the senate public lands committee.

In asking Kelley to return from New York, where he went after making his charges in a letter of resignation as chief of the field division of the general land office in Denver, Senator Nye said the accusations seemed to be connected with other western oil matters of public importance.

Kelley was understood planning to return to Washington today for conference with Nye later in the week.

In announcing he had requested cooperation of the justice department, Secretary Wilbur said his department "does not propose to rest under charges of malfeasance in connection with the administration of public lands."

In his letter to Wilbur, Kelley had placed the value of the shale in question at $40,000,000. Interior department experts say the cost of extracting oil from the shale, a tough rock substance, thus far has prevented large scale production.

NEW LIBRARIAN
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Miss Mabel Gillis, of Sacramento, today assumed her duties as state librarian of California, succeeding Milton J. Ferguson, who resigned to become head of the Brooklyn, N. Y., library.

Miss Gillis is a daughter of the late James Gillis of Sacramento, former State Librarian, and has spent many years in the state library here as assistant to Ferguson.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND FIRST DAY AT FAIR

Tustin Farm Center Takes Sweepstakes Prize in Fine Exhibit

BREAKING THE RECORD in point of attendance, the fourteenth Orange county fair was opened yesterday to the thousands of visitors who thronged through the gates to view the bountiful products, the stalls of blooded stock, colorful blossoms from the loveliest gardens of the Southland, the industrial displays and to take part in the carnival connected with the fair.

The theme of the fair is "international friendship," displays being built around motifs of various nations. Sweepstakes for the entire exhibits were won by the Tustin farm center which has an exhibit depicting Switzerland. The display is featured by the flag of Switzerland worked out in chilies and beans. A myriad of beautiful fruits is included and the background is provided by a view of the Matterhorn. Paul Ekzold, who designed the exhibit is in charge and is dressed in the costume of the Swiss Tyrol.

In the farm center feature exhibits, Tustin farm center was awarded first place, La Habra farm center second place and the Anaheim farm center third place.

In the diversified farm center exhibits, Garden Grove was given first place, West Orange second, and Yorba Linda, third.

Awards in commercial feature exhibits went to the City of Orange, first, and the Orange County Fruit Exchange, second. Among the visiting county exhibits, Pomona county was given first prize, San Bernardino second, and El Dorado county, third. Pomona's exhibit carried the theme of "Mary Queen of Scots."

In the department of farm bureau exhibits, bee keepers won first place, the grain growers, second, and the subtropical display third place. In the non-agricultural displays first prize went to the state department, second to the Orange county farm bureau, and the third to the Orange county fire department.

The drum corps exhibition which was one of the features of the evening was not a part in the nature of a contest and was put on through the efforts of Charles Van Wyk and the Santa Ana American Legion as a compliment to the 1930 fair.

Participating drum corps were those of Pasadena, Long Beach, Alhambra, Maywood and Whittier with the shotgun drill team of Maywood and Alhambra.

Senate Campaign Quiz Waits Until After Elections

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(UP)—The senate campaign expenditures committee will wait until after the November election to hear evidence supporting Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick's wire tapping charges, Chairman Nye has announced in answer to criticism from a member of the investigating committee.

Nye said a majority of the committee decided not to go into the matter in Chicago because "we were driven to the conclusion that we were being framed and did not want to spend weeks bringing in reliable witnesses to disprove these things."

TAKE OPENING GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES FROM CARDINALS BY 5 TO 2

Home Runs from Simmons and Cochrane of Philadelphia Team Feature Battle of Star Hurlers

ERRORLESS BASEBALL PLAYED

By FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor
SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Connie Mack played his ace today and took the first trick of the 1930 world series. The Athletics, with "Lefty" Grove holding the challengers in check, defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 2.

Burleigh Grimes was found for only five hits, but these were rousing ones, including homers by Al Simmons and Mickey Cochrane and triples by Jimmy Foxx and Mule Haas.

Each hit the Athletics made counted for a run, an unusual world series record. The Cards touched Grove, star southpaw of the American league champions, for nine hits but scored only in the second inning.

President Hoover was among the 32,355 fans who saw the Mackmen win the vastly important first game of the series under sunny skies.

No ball was hit out of the infield until Foxx drove a liner to right with one out in the second inning.

Blades, crippled, was playing over towards center for Jimmy. He cut for the foul line but did not limp over quickly enough to get even with the ball and it sailed on to strike the grate at the bottom of the fence and rebounded at an angle over Ray's head. Foxx was past second before Blades got his hand on the ball. As Ray attempted to throw to third the ball slipped from his hand and fell behind him. He recovered it quickly enough to hold Foxx at third and the official scorer called it a triple for the game's first hit.

Miller followed with almost a duplicate of Foxx's drive but Blades this time was playing closer to the foul line and had to limp only a few steps to make the catch. Foxx, however, was on his way home as soon as the ball hit Blades' hands and easily beat the throw to the plate. Haas followed with another line drive. This one going almost straight to Haefey.

Then the Cardinals went into the lead. Mancuso led off with a liner over Bishop's head for a single.

PLAY BY PLAY

FIRST INNING
CARDINALS—Douthitt up. Ball 1, high and outside. Strike 1, called. Douthitt grounded to Bishop, who threw him out to Foxx on a fast play. Adams up. Strike 1, called. Strike 2, called. Ball 1, inside. Adams fanned, swinging. Frisch up. Ball 1, outside. Strike 1, called. Frisch grounded to Bishop, who raced over back of second and fielded the ball to throw him out to Foxx.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

ATHLETICS—Bishop up. Strike 1, called. Ball 1, low and outside. Strike 2, called. Grimes broke a spitter over the plate for the second strike. Foul. Ball 2, outside. Grimes broke another spitter over the plate and Bishop was called out on strikes. Dykes up. Strike 1, called. Grimes was using or faking his spitter on almost every pitch. Dykes "accidentally" hit the ball with his bat and it rolled slowly down first base line and he was an easy out to Bottomley unassisted. Cochrane up. Strike 1, swung. Strike 2, called. Ball 1, outside. Grimes let loose a wild one which caused Cochrane to duck and Mancuso barely knocked down the pitch. Ball 2, Ball 3, outside. Cochrane walked. Simmons up. Strike 1, called. Simmons swung at the first one and missed by a foot. Mancuso called for a pitch-out and almost caught Cochrane off first. He got back by a great slide. Ball 1. Simmons swung at another strike. Strike 2. Grimes was taking his time. Simmons stepped out of the box. Simmons fouled tip. Simmons swung at another tip. Simmons swung at another tip.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

ATHLETICS: Ball one, inside. Strike one, called. Simmons hit a hot grounder and he knocked it down with his pitching hand and threw Simmons out to Bottomley. Foxx up. Ball one, outside. Foul, strike one. Foul, strike two. Both went over the grandstand behind first base. Ball two, high. Foxx doubled to right field. Blades fumbled the ball and Foxx continued on to third. It was the first hit of the game. The official score ruled it was a three base hit. Miller up. Foul, strike one. Ball one, outside. Ball two, low and outside. Miller flied to Blades. Foxx scoring on the play. It was a sacrifice fly for Miller. Haas up. Ball one, inside. Ball two, low. Haas flied to Haefey in left. One run, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNING
CARDINALS—Mancuso up. Strike 1, called. Mancuso singled over first. Mancuso singled over first.

ATHLETICS WIN FIRST GAME OF WORLD SERIES

gle and Gelbert smacked a single between Bishop and Fox. Grimes laid down a bunt between the pitching mound and the first base line which was Groves' ball to field, but Lefty slipped and fell flat as he left the mound and Fox had to dash in and get it. Grimes beat the throw to first for a hit and was doubly safe as Bishop was unable to hold Fox's low throw.

This bunt filled the bases and set the stage for the Cards to get two runs home on two fly balls. The first left Douthitt's bat and went to Haas almost in dead center. Haas slipped as he started for the ball, but recovered his balance and made the catch. He threw to third in an attempt to keep Gelbert from moving up from second but the throw was late. Mancuso, of course, had gone on home. Adams then drove a sacrifice fly to Miller to send Gelbert home from third. Grimes, meanwhile, sticking close to first. Frisch moved his pitcher to second by rapping a single off Groves' glove which Boley recovered so late he even did not throw to first but both men were left when Bottomley lifted a high foul to Fox.

AYORA DECIDES TO KEEP PRESIDENCY

QUITO, Ecuador, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Backed by an appeal from many classes of Ecuador and a vote of confidence by congress, President Isidro Ayora rescinded his "irrevocable" decision today to resign as chief executive of the nation.

CRIPPLED GIRL WIFE WILL GO TO SPECIALIST

dream could come true, until she read the Register last night, and saw that the goal was so nearly reached. It was almost too much, and the slow tears squeezed themselves out of her two blue eyes, as the full meaning of the statement reached her consciousness. "Oh, I'm going to get to go! I'm actually going to get to go!" she breathed. And the remainder of the evening was one of the happiest ever experienced in the little home of her mother, Mrs. Lewis.

Expressions of Love
Register readers have done a wonderful thing, and probably one of the most beautiful phases of the experience, is the thorough-going friendliness and kindness which each individual gift seemed to express. And oh, the little heart stories that unfolded as friends called by telephone or in person, to express their interest! There is one dear woman in the city who explained in half apologetic manner, that she had no money to give, but she had such nice home-canned fruit, an d would the little sick woman enjoy some of that? Bless her generous heart! What could be more beautiful than to divide the best of what she had?

There was another, living several miles to the west of Santa Ana. In her home too, were conditions that kept her and her husband from making a money gift. "But I saw very nicely," she said hesitantly. "There are little children there, one who seems to be of school age—may I make her some little dresses?" Another unknown friend, wished to share her own little daughter's dainty school dresses with the small girl who soon must enter school.

In Tustin, a husband and wife announced at once their intention of giving generously, and the latter, who is famed for her delicious preserves and similar dainties, also expressed her intention of sending such delicate fruits as an invalid's capricious appetite might fancy. And there were many others with this same generous impulse.

Societies Help Out
Nor was it among individuals alone that these generous gifts were planned and made. When Rebekahs assembled in this city from all over the district, they set the ball to rolling with their generous contribution. Sunday school classes and church societies followed suit. Yesterday the Woman's club took a free-will offering, and last night, the Quill Pen club hostess, Mrs. Marshall Harnols, declared she would rather have flowers in this form than the choicest roses that bloom, so the members unanimously set their flower fund aside for the cause.

Tustin Knights of Pythias lay aside their lodge interests to give to this worthy cause. A group of those splendid women of the W.R.C. who are banded together as the Quilling club, yesterday raised $15 for the fund, "because," as they explained it, "our whole organization is founded upon welfare work for others."

So these, with dozens and dozens of individuals, have forgotten other needs, disregarded the unceasing demands and requirements of their daily living, and, stirred by the tragic life of an unfortunate girl, are sharing of their own sometimes pitifully scanty store of this world's goods, with one whose need is greater than theirs.

"Your needs shall be met," is the promise made humanity, and to-day the Register is happy to inform its readers, that the promise has been fulfilled to Mamie Henderson, brave little suffering wife and mother, and to her equally brave and uncomplaining husband and mother and sister. What better thing can we say than what Dickens' immortal Tiny Tim said—"God bless us, every one."

The following contributions had been made and tabulated at 11 o'clock this morning. Since that time additional money has come in to go over the goal of $500. What remaining money comes in will be turned over to the family to help defray additional expenses which will be incurred on the journey.

Calvin Coolidge
Says

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE

Former President of the United States NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 1.—Even if the gift of ten million dollars by Edward S. Harkness to British charity stood alone it would have important significance in the development of philanthropy. This great sum given for the promotion of human welfare in a foreign nation will emphasize again the common brotherhood and the interdependence of all people irrespective of national boundaries. But this is only one of the generous responses reaching hundreds of millions made by the people of the United States for relief from suffering and for general improvement of conditions in nearly every country of Europe and Asia. These gifts are not only from the great philanthropists of our land, but through the American Red Cross and the near east relief, have come to include benefactions created by the general public.

Nothing like it has occurred in all past history. The only approach to it in our own experience was the legacy of the British subject, James Smithson, of over half a million dollars to the United States for the foundation of the Smithsonian institution. Such philanthropists draw the world closer together and demonstrate the power of the human race to rise above international antagonism.

Bishop's head. It was the first hit by Groves. Gelbert up. Ball one, high. Gelbert singled sharply to right, Mancuso stopping at second. Grimes up. Grimes bunted to Fox who threw to Bishop covering first. Bishop dropped the ball but the official scorer ruled it a hit. Mancuso went to third and Gelbert to second on the play. Douthitt up. Strike one called. Ball one, inside. Douthitt hit a long fly to center which Haas caught at his shoestring. Mancuso scoring and Gelbert going to third. It was a sacrifice fly for Douthitt. Adams up. Adams flied to Miller, Gelbert scoring easily after the catch. It was a sacrifice fly for Adams. Frisch up. Strike one called. Strike two, foul into the stands. Frisch hit a sharp grounder to the pitcher's box and it went for an infield hit, Grimes taking second. Bottomley up. Ball one, outside. Bottomley hoisted a high foul to Fox. Two runs, four hits, no errors. Two left on base.

SEVENTH INNING
CARDS—Gelbert up. Strike one called. Foul. Gelbert grounded to Dykes who threw him out to Fox. Grimes up. The crowd booed him. Ball one, inside. Strike one called. Grimes singled to right. The ball was hard hit and went past Fox, who made a dash for it but could not reach it. Douthitt up. Douthitt grounded to Boley who knocked the ball down by a dive and forced Grimes at second. It was a great play on Boley's part and robbed Douthitt of a hit. Adams up. Strike one called. Strike two, foul. Adams singled past Dykes, Douthitt stopping at second. Frisch up. Ball one, high. Foul. Strike one, high. Foul. Frisch lined to Bishop who made a one handed leaping catch, he barely had to move out of his tracks to get the ball. No runs, two hits, no errors.

ATHLETICS—Miller up. Ball one, high. Strike one called. Miller popped to Adams, who took the ball on the grass behind the pitcher's box. Haas up. Strike one called. Ball one, high and outside. Strike two called. Ball two, low. Haas lined a triple down the right field line. It was a liner just inside fair territory and rolled all the way to the right field corner. Boley up. Ball one, high. Boley bunted and Haas scored. It was a sacrifice for Boley. Groves up. Groves up. Frisch to Bottomley on first ball. One run, one hit, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING
CARDINALS—Bottomley up. Ball one, low and outside. Foul. Strike one. Foul, strike two. Bottomley out, Bishop to Fox. Haas up. Ball one, outside. Strike one, swung. Ball two, outside. Ball three, high. Strike two, called. Haas hit a terrific grounder through Boley and raced all the way to second on the hit. The official scorer ruled it a two base hit. Blades up. Blades drove a long fly to Haas, Haas holding second. Mancuso up. Ball one, inside. Mancuso raised a high foul in front of the Athletics' dugout, which Cochrane caught by a great effort. No runs, one hit, no errors.

ATHLETICS—Bishop up. Ball one, inside. Strike one, called. Bishop out, Ris Frisch to Bottomley. Dykes up. Ball one, low. The ball hit the dirt in front of the plate. Dykes out, Gelbert to Bottomley. Cochrane up. Cochrane drove a home run over the right field fence. The drive was almost in the identical place as Simmons in the fourth inning. Simmons up. Strike one, called. Ball one, high. Frisch drove a hit to right field and stretched it into a double when Miller misjudged the ball and played it badly. Bottomley up. Bottomley grounded out to Fox unassisted. No runs, one hit, no errors.

ATHLETICS—Miller up. Miller hit the first ball pitched and was out, Gelbert to Bottomley. Haas up. Strike one, called. Ball one, outside. Haas grounded out, Gelbert to Bottomley. Boley up. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Boley out, Adams to Bottomley. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING
CARDINALS—Haas up. Strike one swung. Ball one outside. Strike two swung. Haas hit a sharp grounder to Boley and was out Boley to Fox. Blades up. Blades grounded to Boley and was out the same way. He hit the first ball pitched. Mancuso up. Strike one called. The umpire looked at the ball but tossed it back into the game. Ball one outside. It's one and one. Ball two outside. Mancuso flied to Miller. No runs, no hits, no errors.

ATHLETICS—Grove up. Strike one swung. Strike two called. Foul. Grove fanned swinging. It was Grimes' fourth strikeout. Bishop up. Ball one low. Foul strike one. Strike two attempted bunt but he missed the ball entirely. Foul. Ball two low and outside. Ball three inside. Bishop walked. Dykes up. Ball one outside. Strike one called. Ball two outside. It was a pitchout and Mancuso attempted to catch Bishop off first, without success. Strike two called. Dykes drove a long hit to left field scoring Bishop. Dykes' hit was a double which bounded off the far leftfield wall. Cochrane up. Strike one called. Ball one high. Strike two called. Ball two low and outside. Grimes protested vigorously on the decision and the crowd razzed him. Ball three high. Cochrane was called out on strikes. Cochrane exchanged some words with Grimes as he went to the dugout. Simmons up. Ball one outside. It was a pitchout. Ball two outside, another pitchout. Ball three outside. Ball four outside. Simmons was purposely passed. Lind.

Summer COLDS

Almost everybody knows how Bayer Aspirin breaks up a cold—but why not prevent it? Take a tablet or two when you first feel the cold coming on. Spare yourself the discomfort of a summer cold. Read the proven directions in every package for headaches, pain, etc.

Ball one, inside. Simmons grounded to Gelbert who threw to Bottomley, retiring him. One run, one hit, no errors.

NINTH INNING

CARDS: Gelbert up. Ball one, inside. Strike one, called. Foul. Strike two. Ball two, outside. Foul. Gelbert fanned, swinging. It was Groves fifth strikeout of the game. Puccinelli batting for Grimes. Ball one, high and outside. Ball two, inside. Ball three, high. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Puccinelli raised a high foul which Cochrane easily caught. Douthitt up. Ball one, high. Strike one, called. Douthitt popped to Boley. No runs, no hits, no errors.

ENDURANCE FLIERS BEGIN THIRD FLIGHT

GLENDALE, Calif., Oct. 1.—(UP)—Loren W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart, former holders of the world air endurance record, were aloft today on their third attempt to recapture the championship. With Al Dalstun aboard as radio operator, their "Pride of Hollywood" monoplane passed the 12 hour mark at 5:36:07 a. m. today. The first two attempts ended in failure.

Road Crews Not To Fill Lagoons

SUNSET BEACH, Oct. 1.—A report was current here yesterday that the fill proposed for the widening of the state highway to the standard 100 feet, would result in filling present channels of the lagoon system. Investigation at the engineer's office of the state highway commission reveals the fact, however, that new sections will be dredged, tending to straighten and make more practical any portion of the channels now existing.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

When you hunger for some definite idea regarding the life of your dear one in Paradise, try to rid your mind of any notion that what is experienced there is a more glorified repetition of life on earth. Individuality persists. (That is what the "resurrection of the body" means.) But the satisfactions of Paradise must transcend any exceptions to which one can rise during an earthly life. You and your dear one alike have known yearning which seemed never to be gratified in this life. There one's highest hopes and desires become clear and are fulfilled. Rejoice that your dear one is there and prepare yourself to follow on.

REGISTRATION TO BEAT TOTAL OF LAST YEAR

Registration at evening school classes of the adult education program is expected to exceed that of last year, according to Mrs. Golden Weston, director of the adult education department, who stated today that registration tomorrow night at additional classes probably will equal that of last night, when 326 were enrolled for the courses which will be offered on each Tuesday night.

The classes are meeting in high school and junior college buildings here, and Mrs. Weston declares today that the interest expressed last night was very encouraging and indicates a very successful response for the year.

Beginning Spanish was the banner class last night with about 60 in attendance and word from several others that they wished to enroll next week. It was decided to run the class in two sections so the second section will be organized tomorrow night. Advanced Spanish also will be organized tomorrow night.

Dr. Gertrude Laws' Wednesday morning group in parental education met this morning with an enrollment of 37. The class in hygiene will meet this afternoon in the south west room of the gymnasium with Miss Marie Jacobson.

The following classes will hold their first meeting tomorrow at 7 p. m. in the high school and junior college buildings: Applied mathematics, under M. V. Newcomer; art appreciation, in the west building under Miss Hazel Nell Bemus; English II in the administration building, under Miss Edith Alton; gymnasium floor work, with Miss Alverda Scott; international relations, with Mrs. Jennie Lasby Tessmann; mill, cabinet and woodturning, in the shops under Charles L. Tibbets; music appreciation, in the administration building under Mrs. Frances Benson; Red Cross first aid and safety under E. J. Bacon; Spanish (advanced and beginning) under Miss Helen Kirkland and Mrs. Ruby Drake; typing (advanced) under George B. Holmes.

A class in salesmanship is being planned for next Tuesday night. A more definite announcement concerning this course will be made later.

SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, Oct. 1.—The Sunset Beach Woman's club will hold a card party Saturday at 8 p. m. at the clubhouse. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, of Bay View drive, attended a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellison in Long Beach in commemoration of their son's birthday. The evening was spent in music, cards and games, after which lovely refreshments were served. About 30 guests enjoyed the event.

Mrs. Josephine Sheddley and Frances Earl attended a card party in Seal Beach Friday night, given by the Woman's club at the civic auditorium. Mrs. Earl played high at bridge.

Mrs. H. A. Johns, of Canal way, have as her guest, her father, W. A. Talbot, who has just returned from a three months vacation touring the east. Her mother, Mrs. Isabella Talbot, has spent the summer here with her daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Talbot will leave Tuesday for their home in Monrovia.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Alward and daughters, Virginia and Elizabeth, were guests at the Maryland, home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Armitage. Mr. and Mrs. Alward are making their home at the present time in Hollywood while their daughters are attending college.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Batchelder, of Bay View drive, left today for La Jolla, where they will spend a week's vacation visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Phillips and daughters Rosa Lee and Catherine, of Los Angeles, spent the week end at their beach cottage on Fifteenth street and had as their guests, Mrs. Phillips mother, Mrs. F. Correa, of Highland Park, and Mrs. C. Richards and daughter, Nadine, of Los Alamitos.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Earl were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hayes, of Orange, formerly of Huntington Beach. On Saturday afternoon they enjoyed a golf party at Hewes park, other guests were Mrs. A. Richards, J. Schurr, Robert Hayes, Misses Evelyn Davis, Marie Dillon and Lila Lee Hayes.

Local Briefs

L. J. Hackett, manager of the west coast division of the Celotex company, gave a very interesting, illustrated lecture last evening in the Barr Lumber company Club house on the manufacture and practical uses of Celotex. Among other things of interest, Hackett stated that the out-put of the Celotex company in 1922 was 22,000,000 square feet, while in 1930, 332,000 square feet of this marvelous insulating material was manufactured. The meeting was attended by contractors and building material salesmen.

Mary Carothers, 30, of Anaheim, and Earl Eager, 52, of Huntington Park, have applied for a marriage license in Riverside.

Realizing that the picturization of Shakespeare's immortal drama, "Othello," with the noted dramatic actor, Emil Jannings, as the hero of the story, would have a special appeal to those who have studied, and in some cases taught, Shakespeare's writings, Mr. Shelley, the manager of Shelley's theater, has sent complimentary invitations to every faculty member of the Santa Ana schools, to attend the showing here October 1 to 3. In all, 600 invitations have been sent out.

Former residents of Maryville, Nodaway county, Mo., will gather for a picnic and reunion at Bixby park, Long Beach, next Sunday. The famous Missouri picnic dinner will be in evidence and those present will enjoy reminiscing with their friends.

Leaders in Boy Scout work in the north part of the county will meet tonight at the home of Phil Stanton, west of Anaheim, to discuss raising funds for Pioneer cabin at Camp Rokili, the scout cabin in the San Bernardino mountains.

TWO YORBA LINDA CLUB HEADS RESIGN

PLACENTIA, Oct. 1.—A special meeting of the executive board of the Yorba Linda Woman's club and members was held at the club house Tuesday afternoon, at which time Miss Una MacClatchie and Mrs. Lucy Scott resigned as president and first vice president, respectively.

Miss MacClatchie resigned her position because she has moved to Los Angeles, and Mrs. A. C. Pickering was appointed acting chairman until the election of another president.

A special meeting of the club will be held October 7 at 2 p. m. at the clubhouse for the purpose of electing the president, and all members are asked to attend. The first regular club meeting of the year will be held October 14 and arrangements for this dinner meeting will be made at the special meeting October 7, and committees will be appointed.

Present at the meeting were Miss MacClatchie, Mrs. A. C. Pickering, Mrs. Harry Gendar, Mrs. F. V. Scott, Mrs. Frank Day, Miss Marsha Vernon and Mrs. V. C. Barbre.

Reports Plan of Glass Plant For Building In 1931

In the September 27 edition of the National Glass Budget, largest publication pertaining to glass manufacturers in the United States, is carried a story relative to the building of the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass company's plant in Santa Ana.

Following is the story: "Plans are now being prepared by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company for a new modern plate glass works to be erected at Santa Ana, Calif. The company expects to have details worked out and approved, so that construction work can be started early in 1931. The company has owned the site for some time past. It was not stated what the new plant would cost nor what the annual productive capacity would be."

STAFF MEMBERS OF ALGOL APPOINTED

As editor-in-chief of the Santa Ana Junior college year book, the Algol, Miss Betty Maloney submitted the names of 12 additional members on her staff, for the approval of the executive board at its session on Monday. Three positions remain unfilled, the editorships of women's athletics, music and publications. These will be filled for the approval of the board at its next meeting.

Bernard Sharpley has been chosen as associate editor; Herbert Welch, forensic editor; Goldie Peale, art editor; Jerry Tannenbaum, men's sports; Elva Cook, organizations; Gall Andrews, drama editor; Bill Reinhardt, sophomore editor; Milo Almsworth, freshman editor; Joseph Coons, snap shots; Joanna Day, faculty editor; and Clayton Kapps, jokes. Ed Kilbourne, who is business manager, and Miss Maloney were selected last year for the positions they hold.

As there has been dissatisfaction expressed concerning the title "Algol," it has been decided by the executive board to hold a vote on the matter. No definite title has been suggested except that a Spanish name should be given to keep within the traditions of the Dons.

COMPLETED STEEL WORK AT SCHOOL

Steel work for the superstructure of the auditorium at the new Frances Willard high school which is being built by Charles W. Pettifer company, of Long Beach, at the corner of North Ross street and Washington avenue, was completed today. It was announced by George Newcom, business manager of the city schools. The walls of the manual arts building at this plant have also been poured.

Newcom announced that the new cafeteria building at the Julia Lathrop Junior High school was being rapidly completed and would be ready for use about the middle of the month. The new class room building at this school is scheduled for completion the first week in November.

OUTSMARTING BIRDS

BELOIT, Wis., Oct. 1.—(UP)—When Frank R. Cheney learned that birds are frightened by snakes, half of his task was over. When he chopped up discarded garden hose into convenient lengths and painted them to represent snakes, he was the victor in his conquest over birds that had threatened to plunder his garden.

1930 IS REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

A FAIR QUESTION

We are naturally proud of the fact that this, the largest building and loan association in the Nation, has for over 41 years provided our savings customers with flawless protection.

But prudent people do not place their funds here solely because of our past record. They very properly ask, "What specific measures of protection will you afford my funds today?"

Look to our Statement of Condition for a conclusive answer to that question. You will find therein such outstanding measures of protection as these:

— the largest non-withdrawable invested capital and the largest voluntary cash reserve of any building and loan association in the West—an absence of furniture and fixtures and real estate—no bank indebtedness.

And our 7% loan rate is another and vital measure of protection to our savers, for, made purposely low, it is bringing us the choicest first lien collateral being offered to any California building and loan association.

On the basis of these distinctive factors of protection we solicit your consideration of our 6% and 5 1/4% facilities for savings.

Court Notes

The case of J. S. Klepper, charged with non-support, was dismissed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning on motion of the district attorney's office, in furtherance of justice. The court said he understood the man and his wife were living together again.

Inventory and appraisal of the estate of Melle M. Ellis was filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs today, showing a total value of $33,772.37. Anna E. Bugard is administratrix of the estate, the bulk of which is 80 acres in Rancho Los Bolsas, valued at $32,000. Jewelry, furniture and cash account for the balance.

A complaint asking annulment of her marriage to James F. Reiph was filed in superior court today by M. Louise Reiph. The plaintiff alleges that her husband had another wife living at the time of their marriage last August.

A petition for letters of administration in connection with the estate of Minnie Joseph was filed yesterday afternoon by Anses Joseph. Property consisting of promissory notes and real estate totaling $13,400 is listed in the application.

Mildred M. Newman yesterday filed a petition with County Clerk J. M. Backs for letters of administration in the estate of Orin H. Harris. The value of the estate is said not to exceed $10,000.

Fred A. Backs yesterday filed a petition for probate of the will of Hermilina Dussort, who left property valued at $4500. Two of the heirs named in the will reside in Czechoslovakia.

Judge H. G. Ames yesterday denied the petition for revocation of probate of the will of Hilda Johnson after a two-day hearing in connection with the will contest inaugurated by Otto Johnson, husband of the maker of the will, which was drawn a few hours before death.

Castelum Freed On Charge of Assault

Juan Castelum, of Placentia, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was freed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning at the conclusion of his preliminary examination, the court ruling the evidence insufficient to hold the defendant to the superior court.

Castelum is alleged to have shot Gilbert Romero, another Mexican in a fight at Placentia on September 27.

An oil pipe line nearly 140 miles long is to be laid in Mexico.

ANOTHER CHANCE TO LEARN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

(Announcing study groups being organized by the adult department of the Santa Ana high school and some of the reading material that is available at the city library.)

Mrs. Jennie Lasby Tessmann will conduct a study of International Relations. At this time there is probably more world-mindedness than at any other time in history and one is at a loss to know where to read and what to believe about this world of ours.

This class will meet once a week and under Mrs. Tessmann's leadership, and will study the happenings in other countries and what effect they are having on world history and the social and economic conditions in our own country.

There is an extensive amount of reading material in the city library. The following will be of special interest: Foreign Policy of the United States by Dealey, 327.73 D342; United States and Latin America, by Latane, 327.134; The New York Times and the Current History magazine.

There were 326 enrolled in last night's classes. See the list of classes opening Thursday elsewhere in this paper.

CAR OPERATOR SAVES LIFE OF TOT ON RAILS

A motorman's careful attention to duty kept a 14-month-old baby from being ground to death beneath a Pacific Electric car on Eighteenth street, Newport-Balboa, late yesterday.

As it was the infant, the child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, of 1700 Ocean front avenue, escaped with but a slight cut above one eye.

The youngster and an older brother wandered to the tracks in the course of their play. As the car approached, the older child leaped aside but the baby, unaware of the danger, continued to play on the rails.

Motorman Lee Marshall set his air brakes and the car came to a complete stop just as the fender hit the child.

The child was rushed to the Newport Beach hospital by Marshall and Conductor F. D. Knox. Careful examination disclosed that the injury was of a minor nature.

WESTMINSTER
WESTMINSTER, October 1.—Monday evening has been set as the date of a Parent-Teacher association meeting, which is to be held in the school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. The topic for the evening's program is announced as "Know Your School." Mothers finding it necessary to take children to the meeting will find arrangements made for their care in the kindergarten building.

Mrs. T. E. Turpin, superintendent of the league of the Presbyterian church, accompanied to the county hospital on Sunday afternoon. They sang in the wards. In the group were Marguerite McGuire, Margaret Edward, Howard McGuire, Mary Lou Hare, Annabelle Day, Jewell Fagen, Hattie Annis Edward, Bill Turpin, Chas. Parr Jr., Virginia McDonald, Vera Stone, Joe Hosack, Bob Hosack, Bud Hare, Donald Wardlow and Donald Halladay.

taken Friday with a badly injured head, the deep cut which required eight stitches to close, having been sustained when the heavy tongue of a trailer fell, the iron part striking him. When taken to the hospital physicians were doubtful of the outcome but the child is now well on the way to recovery.

Fred Rasse, president of the Westminster Chamber of Commerce and a member of the local school board, and Mrs. Basse are leaving at 9:15 o'clock Thursday morning on a visit to their old home in Columbus, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Basse will go via Chicago, stopping at Altan, Ill., and will spend the greater part of their month's vacation at Columbus.

Returning they will stop over in St. Louis. R. DeBuc, local service station proprietor, who over a week ago was stricken with paralysis in his left side, continues in much the same condition at the county hospital where he was taken when discovered helpless on the floor of his room. Mr. DeBuc is a war veteran and had the misfortune to be badly wounded, several portions of his body having been shot away. Mr. DeBuc has no relatives in this state so far as is known.

FOX THEATERS BUY FILMS OF WARNER STUDIO

Announcement was made this morning by Norman Sprowl, manager of the Fox West Coast theaters of Santa Ana, that the Fox West Coast theaters had purchased the Warner Brothers pictures for Santa Ana, exclusively, and would begin showing them here immediately.

The first Warner Brothers production to come to Santa Ana Fox houses is "The Office Wife," with Dorothy Mackall, scheduled to be shown for five days at the Fox West Coast theater here starting Monday.

"There have been rumors in Santa Ana of Warner Brothers erecting a theater here. I believe that the announcement that the West Coast houses will show Warner Brothers pictures exclusively here for the next year, indicates that the rumors are without foundation," Sprowl said today.

Auto Accident Is Basis of $20,000 Suit for Damages

Injuries sustained in an automobile accident on the state highway near Capistrano Beach on September 10, are the basis of a damage suit filed in superior court today by Zeta I. Armstrong. The defendants are Max M. Smith, et al.

The plaintiff alleged that she sustained injuries to her back, spine, head, neck and shoulders, and declared that the accident was due to the negligence and carelessness of the defendants. Damages are itemized as $20,000 personal injuries and $350 for medical attention.

Youth Arrested At Marriage License Bureau Today

Charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Jose Sanchez, 21, of Ontario, was lodged in the county jail this morning when he appeared at the courthouse with a young Mexican girl, seeking a marriage license. The arrest was made by P. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, on a warrant from Ontario.

The man will be turned over to Ontario officers this afternoon. The county jail on a petty theft charge in connection with the case. Officers Adams and Wolford arrested him.

RAILROAD SUE OVER FENCE ON VICTORIA ROAD

Suit for abatement of a nuisance and damages was filed yesterday afternoon against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway by L. Deach and his wife, Annie Deach, based on a fence the railroad has built across Victoria boulevard near the intersection of state highway 101. Damages are sought in the amount of $1825.

The plaintiffs assert that for the past 40 years Victoria boulevard and Foster avenue, the state highway, have been used as public highways, and that for the past six years they have operated a service station at the intersection of these two roads. They also claim that their profits from the operation of the service station amounted to $5 on week days and $10 on Sundays and holidays until the railroad company erected a five-foot heavy board fence across the traveled portion of Victoria boulevard on December 15, 1928, stopping auto traffic to the service station. Their business fell off so following this that they were forced to close it on February 1, 1929, they said.

It is alleged that the erection of the fence constitutes a nuisance on the grounds that it obstructs the free use of the plaintiff's land and prevents travel on Victoria boulevard. Damages sought are based on the loss of profits from the service station.

NEW TEACHER EMPLOYED FOR BEACH SCHOOL

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, Oct. 1.—Miss Charlotte Hatch, formerly of Pasadena, has been engaged as the twelfth teacher at the new Newport harbor union high school, the engagement being confirmed by the high school board at its meeting Monday night. Miss Hatch will teach English.

There are now 195 students registered at the new high school at Fifteenth and Irvine streets, Newport Heights, instead of the 150 expected. The 195 are in the first three years of high school work, the fourth year students of the district going to the Santa Ana high school this year. It was the larger number of students that made the new addition to the teaching faculty necessary.

The board Monday night opened bids for the tennis courts which are to be built, also for machinery for the high school shops. They will award contracts some time this week, it was stated.

Girls' Class Of Sunday School In Picnic At Park

TUSTIN, Oct. 1.—Thirteen members of the high school girls' class of the Tustin Presbyterian Sunday school were entertained by their teacher, Mrs. Ernest Byrne, Monday evening at Hewes park. After the picnic supper the class enjoyed a game of golf at the Hewes park miniature golf links. Those participating in the fun included the Misses Ruth Shiffler, Evelyn Stone, Lois Stone, Lorraine Ebel, Alice Pannell, Alta Fisher, Wilda Kellams, Arden Murray, Lois Murray, Emily Marsh, Jean Ferry, Marion Lieby and their teacher, Mrs. Ernest Byrne.

Mrs. Verna Miller was elected president of the Christian Endeavor society of the Tustin Presbyterian church at the election held Sunday evening. Ruth Shiffler was elected vice president; secretary and treasurer, Charles Marshall; missionary chairman, Gertrude Pollard, lookout chairman, Wilda Kallams; social chairman, Verna Miller, and prayer meeting chairman, Ruth Shiffler.

Miss Gertrude Hellis entertained at dinner Monday night, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hellis and Miss Edith Stone.

American confectionery has been introduced into Japan.

UNIDENTIFIED BODY FOUND IN BOX CAR HERE

The body of a white man, as yet unidentified, was found at 2 o'clock this afternoon, in a box car, on a siding at Fourth street and the Santa Fe railroad tracks. The man died sometime last night from the inhalation of Carbon bisulphide fumes, the poison being used in the box car for fumigation purposes.

Santa Ana police officers B. A. Hershey and C. V. Adams brought the body out of the car and sent it to the Winblier Mission Funeral home, where an inquest probably will be held tomorrow. The body was found by Stephen Nieblas, an employee of the Collins Walnut packing house, when he opened the car this afternoon for the purpose of loading it.

The man is believed to have crawled into the car through an air vent in the top of the box car sometime early last night, police officers said.

The dead man was approximately 40 years old, small of stature, and had black hair and dark eyes. He wore a dark suit with a small green stripe, colored hose, patent leather low shoes, a brown hat, gray overcoat, and blue work shirt. The overcoat was bought through a mail order house at Cleveland, O.

There was no money in his pockets and nothing on the body to indicate his identity.

WATER PIPE WORK COMPLETED SOON

FULLERTON, Oct. 1.—Announcement that work of installing pipe in the first unit of the Fullerton city water expansion project has been almost completed was made today by City Engineer C. M. Thorpe, who stated that the work would be entirely completed within two weeks.

Thorpe declared that work of laying the pipe and back-filling ditches had been delayed somewhat by the procedure required. As the new 12-inch line is laid, it must be washed out and tested before house connections can be cut into it. Thorpe pointed out. The new line must also be connected with the old line beyond the point where work is completed in order not to interrupt service.

The booster pump on North Cypress avenue, is now installed and working effectively, Thorpe reported, as it is increasing pressure in the district where it is located. The four-inch pipe from West Commonwealth avenue is to be laid on North Cypress avenue, to provide additional service for that district which is now using only a two-inch main.

Solicitors Here Not Supported By Veterans' Bureau

Harry Edwards, Orange county veterans' welfare officer, today issued a warning to the effect that solicitors or peddlers, reported to be operating in this section and claiming to have letters from the veterans' welfare organization, are not being supported or recommended in any way by this body.

It is not the policy of the veterans' welfare organization to give letters to solicitors or sponsor their activities, Edwards said.

BREAKFAST CLUB TO MEET ON THURSDAY

The Santa Ana Breakfast club meeting is scheduled for tomorrow at 7:30 a. m., instead of today, as announced yesterday in the Register. Women have been invited to attend the session and a large attendance is expected at St. Ann's Inn.

Mrs. W. A. Roberts, president of the forum of the League of Women Voters at Chicago, will make the principal address, speaking on "Women in Politics."

School Children Census To Begin On Next Monday

FULLERTON, Oct. 1.—Check of Fullerton school children in the annual census which is taken in the state of California will be started here next Monday, it was announced today by Raymond E. Green, superintendent of schools, who will supervise the work here.

The census, which is required by the state board of education, will be headed by Mrs. L. M. Davy, who will take charge of census enumerators who will make a survey of the city on all children up to 18 years of age, Green stated. Other workers will include Mrs. C. W. Trotter, Mrs. Floyd Gabriel and Mrs. Walter Humphreys. One week is allowed for the census check.

Name Committee For Girls' Club

PLACENTIA, Oct. 1.—The Euclid club of girls of the seventh and eighth grades met Monday afternoon at Calvary church and elected a nominating committee composed of Ruth Mackey, Katherine Watson, Lola Risher and Jane Henry, who will report at the next meeting.

The honor roll system will be used, with points for attendance. Bible lessons and club loyalty and each girl is to try to bring a new member. A contest on points will be held between the three girls' clubs. Those present at the Monday meeting were Edna and Eva Thurman, Edwina Feenster, LaVonne Kester, Frances Bowen, Gertrude Nelson, Roberta Beet and Dorothy Colburn.

The girls of the Gleaners club went to Fairmont park, Riverside, September 27 for a picnic dinner. Miss Edith McNutt, club leader, was with the girls, six of whom were in attendance.

MOTHER OF ROBERT BROWN IS CALLED

Mrs. Mary Brown, 63, of Eagle Rock, mother of Robert L. Brown, proprietor of the Santa Ana Book store, passed away yesterday at 3:55 p. m., just five minutes before her son arrived to keep an appointment with her at 4 p. m. Brown had left Santa Ana to visit his mother, who has been in ill health for several years, without any intimation that death was near.

Mrs. Brown came to Eagle Rock five years ago from Scotland.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Friday from the Overholser Funeral parlors, Los Angeles, with Dr. William E. Roberts officiating. Interment will be at the Forest Lawn cemetery. In addition to her son in Santa Ana Mrs. Brown is survived by her husband, Alexander Brown, five daughters and another son, all residing in Los Angeles.

Buena Park Club Given Report On Kiwanis Session

BUENA PARK, Oct. 1.—A report on the Atlantic City Kiwanis convention by Lieutenant Governor Elmer Steffenson, of Santa Ana, was the feature of the Buena Park Kiwanis club meeting Tuesday night in the Woman's clubhouse. He stated that the attendance at the convention was good and that child welfare was a worthwhile objective.

On the subject, "Individual Participation in Civic Affairs," Steffenson called on Milton Lutz of Whittier, who gave a short talk on "Participation in Citizenship."

A musical program consisting of piano solos by Stanley Kurtz and trumpet solos by Robert Mill, accompanied by Mrs. Mabel Moll, was introduced by Caryl B. Snyder, program chairman.

Church Club Of Placentia Elects

PLACENTIA, Oct. 1.—Election of officers was held by the Junior Fishermen's club of Calvary church Monday evening, with Bud Stewart, of Olinda, elected president. Other officers are Watson Ruddy, vice president; William Seeger, recording secretary; James Henry, membership chairman; Charles Feenster, treasurer; Leo Burns, social chairman.

This club, which is for boys of 13-15, meets each Monday from 7 to 8:15 p. m., under the leadership of Don Milligan.

JUDGE RULES EVIDENCE IS INSUFFICIENT

Ridenour said that he picked up a rifle that was lying in the rear room and tried to bluff with it, but that he failed," Howard testified.

Howard testified also that Ridenour told him that Counts had made several suspicious moves toward him as he literally chased him to the rear of the service station, putting his hand in his rear pocket and telling him that he "would put his lights out."

The officer testified that Ridenour said that he shot Counts three times. "I asked him if he knew where he had hit Counts, and he said 'I don't know. I shot fast, but I think he went down on the first shot.'"

Wettlin, in his argument to the court at the conclusion of the preliminary examination, capitalized on this testimony, to prove, he said, that Counts was the aggressor in the misunderstanding and that Counts was not shot until Ridenour had retreated as far as he could and that he shot then only in defense of his life against a man who was threatening and who had been drinking.

The first witness called by the state was Dr. E. W. Tock, autopsy surgeon of the county hospital, who told of the bullet wounds he found in Counts' body, the day after his death. She testified there was no way to tell which bullet had struck first, but that the bullet that caused death struck Counts below the sixth rib and pierced the chest and bladder.

Harry Carter, deputy sheriff, told of his trip to the service station soon after the shooting and the moving of the dying man to the county hospital. He was not allowed to tell of his conversation with the defendant at that time. He testified that Counts was unconscious at the time he was found and removed to the hospital and that he did not question him.

Dr. Roy A. Cummings, surgeon at the county hospital, testified that he talked with Counts before he died and when he was conscious, but that "he made no statement relative to the shooting." He said he asked the wounded man who did the shooting and also why he was shot, but that he got no answer. Cummings said that Counts knew he was dying at the time.

Clara Bow is puzzled over the electric lights on the theater marquee which read: "All Quiet, With Sound."

65 ATTRACTED TO PLACENTIA C. OF C. SESSION

PLACENTIA, Oct. 1.—Members of the Placentia library board were hostesses at the chamber of commerce dinner Tuesday, which was attended by 65 members and guests. Gilbert Kraemer was chairman in the absence of President A. S. Bradford, who sent a telegram stating that he was held at Independence by the early snowfall and could not be present.

Speakers of the afternoon were introduced by Mrs. T. L. McFadden, chairman of the library board, and included Mrs. Dowling, first president of the board, who told of the early history of the library, how it was built without a bond issue, the board saving over $20,000 from their allowance from the county; Carleton Winslow, architect of the building, who told of the interesting problem which this small library presented, by its peculiar individual needs; Dr. Dowling, who kept the audience in a gale of laughter by one of his typical speeches, and Supervisor William Schumacher, who gave his assistance to the board members when they planned to build.

Hostesses were Mrs. McFadden, Mrs. Robinson and the librarians, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. William Wallop, the third member of the board, was unable to attend.

S. James Tuffree provided the program, bringing some of the entertainers from the county fair, and there were tap dances by Eileen Bennett, songs by Elaine Kingston and piano numbers by Miss Putnam.

E. M. Everett read a request that the chamber endorse proposition No. 2 on the November ballot, appropriating state money for firemen. Chief Lucy asked that this endorsement be given and stated that the Placentia fire department had attended 26 fires outside the city in the past year and only two in the city.

The Sunkist Service station will be the next host to the chamber of commerce.

COURT OF OLD WORLD PLANNED FOR L. B. SITE

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Harry Green is having a nine-room home of Spanish architecture, rambling style, designed and executed by Thomas Harper. It is to be built about a court, the location on Temple hills. Mrs. Green has traveled extensively, and after seeing many parts of the world, has decided to make this her home. The new place is to be completed in about three months. Meanwhile Mrs. Green is living in a rented place here.

Another place designed by Mr. Harper is the home for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eberle, which is to be completed within three weeks. It is located on the ocean front on Coast boulevard at Sleepy Hollow lane and is of original design, planned particularly for comfort and practicability. Mr. Eberle is an inventor of note and will make this city his permanent home.

Mr. Harper plans to erect on his own account a Versailles court of four cottages, one chateau, one Normandy, one Spanish, one Mexican, about a beautiful garden. It is to be reminiscent of the old world. Mr. Harper got his idea from the various countries he visited last year. Though old world in atmosphere and theme, the houses are to be modern in appointments. It is planned to have them finished by the first of the coming year.

23 CHILDREN AT ORANGE HEALTH MEET TUESDAY

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Interest in the health center at the city hall by young mothers of the community is very evident as 23 children were brought yesterday afternoon to the large sunny room on the south side of the city hall building which is reserved for this purpose. Miss Vena Jones, county nurse in charge of the work, reports that Orange babies are unusually healthy and are making satisfactory progress in every way.

Mrs. Percy Green, who is in charge of the habit training center, is planning several improvements for the cozy corner reserved for the children to play in. Mrs. Green is using lessons each week prepared by Alice M. Diest, Los Angeles health habit director.

Yesterday's lessons gave young mothers much valuable information in which was included the following:

"The playtime which takes up so much of the child's day is perhaps a more valuable factor in his growth and development than many parents realize. It is far more than a period of entertainment.

"In his play the child is gaining knowledge which nothing can take from him. He learns to discriminate as he observes that some playthings are not all alike; some are hard, soft, round, square, large, small, heavy, light. Some of his toys can stand rougher treatment than others. He learns that he is the loser if he handles his toys carelessly, and probably through some such experience he becomes more careful. This lesson is not learned, however, if the parent immediately substitutes the broken or damaged toy with a new one.

"Playtime furnishes many opportunities for the child to make his adjustments in social situations. He learns to keep his place, to take his turn, to play fair, to play carefully and to consider the wishes of others while not entirely relinquishing his own. This is all part of the education which comes to the child through play. One frequently meets adults who testify that because of the little time for play allowed them in childhood they have never made these adjustments satisfactorily."

TUSTIN

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Wilson and sons, James and Stanley, has as guest, Carl Doss, of Oregon, over Sunday. The group motored to Newport and Balboa in the afternoon. Doss intends to attend school in Santa Ana.

Frank M. Griset, of South B street, returned Sunday afternoon from a 10-day deer hunting trip to his brother-in-law's ranch in Placerville. One buck was shot and brought home. The return trip to Tustin was made in 14 hours.

Miss Mary Dunstan, instructor at Tustin high school, reports a very delightful trip of two and a half months visiting nine countries of Europe, including France, Italy, Switzerland, Holland, England, Austria, Germany and Scotland.

"In Holland," says Miss Dunstan, "we found the quaintest buildings and customs, while the most unusual sights we saw were in Germany."

She was most favorably impressed with England. While it rained in every country when she visited it, it rained less in England while she was there. The most disagreeable weather was found in Germany, she said.

Yuma Marriage Of Miss Opal Hicks, R. Huff Revealed

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Interesting to their many friends here is the announcement of the wedding of Miss Opal Hicks and Ralph Huff, the marriage having taken place at Yuma August 20. Mrs. Huff is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hicks, 163 South Cypress street, and has resided in this city for several years. She is a member of the choir of the First Christian church.

The young people were accompanied to Yuma by Mr. and Mrs. Neil Mallard. Mrs. Huff chose for her wedding, a frock of white georgette with white accessories and Mrs. Mallard who attended her as matron of honor, wore an attractive ensemble of pink georgette. Mr. Mallard served the bridegroom as best man.

After a honeymoon trip in the north on which they left yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Huff will establish their home on Mr. Huff's orange ranch near Anaheim.

ORANGE RESIDENT DROPS FROM SIGHT

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Dropping from sight when he left the home of his mother, Mrs. Sarah Bradley, 484 North Orange street, early Monday morning, Leon Bradley, 22, has not been seen or heard from since this time.

Bradley left home for the Orange County fair grounds, where he had the partial promise of a job. There is no record at the office of the fair grounds that Bradley reached there and his movements since he left home are a complete mystery.

As there was no reason for the young man's disappearance friends and relatives are very uneasy over his continued absence. A thorough search and detailed inquiries were made at the fair grounds Monday evening.

When last seen Bradley was wearing a grey work shirt, blue overalls and a brown sweater. He is of average height. Having only a small amount of money and no extra clothing with him, relatives do not believe that he left to seek work elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Riley were surprised Sunday when Mrs. Riley's nephew, Sam Cox, junior mechanic on the vessel "President Wilson," visited them. The "President Wilson" had put in at San Pedro harbor for the day, leaving Monday for San Francisco for a few days before starting on a world tour. Mr. Riley's brother, J. T. Riley, of Los Angeles, also spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. Riley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Beavers drove to Long Beach Sunday to call on Mrs. H. L. Beavers and infant son, Robert Mitchell, at the Long Beach sanitarium. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Beavers called on Mr. and Mrs. Phil Trenary, of Bolsa.

Mr. and Mrs. Remella have moved back to Anaheim. Mrs. Remella is in the telephone exchange.

300 EXPECTED AT SESSION OF GIRLS' LEAGUE

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Nearly 300 girls are expected to be present in this city on November 14 and 15, when the Federation of Girls' Leagues of Southern California convenes here at that time. The federation includes the league of the Phoenix, Ariz., and recently an application was received from the league of the Mesa, Ariz., high school to become affiliated with the Southern California organization. Arizona towns are joining the California federation because of the fact that no federation has been organized in that state. Miss Avis Middleton, advisor said this morning.

Preparations to entertain delegates are already under way. Musical programs will be presented by the Boys' and Girls' glee clubs of the school and by organ pupils of Percy Green, head of the music department.

Meetings are to be held in the high school and committees are soon to be appointed to make detailed arrangements.

PERMITS FOR SEPTEMBER AT $10,950 TOTAL

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Three building permits issued here September 23 raised the total for the month well above permits issued during August, which were $7000. The month's permits, however, are some distance below those of September, 1929, which came to $30,850 while this year's permits issued in September were $10,950, according to a report compiled in the office of Building Inspector Frank Dale.

During the past month 18 permits were issued, the greater number of them being for remodeling jobs or additions. Seven permits were taken out for new structures. The number of permits exceeds those of any other months for the past two years.

The month when building reached the highest mark this year was March, when permits totaled $36,200.

Permits issued the past week days included one for $2300 to August Harms for an addition to his home on East Chapman avenue, one for $1300 for putting in tile and plate glass windows in the H. H. Benjamin building on North Glassell street, near the Orange theater, a $600 permit to put a new front in the F. L. Ainsworth building on West Chapman avenue and a permit to Robert Wellbrach for an addition to cost $250.

On that day and the meeting will be held in the church auditorium. Miss Helena Courtney, a nurse in training at the county hospital, spent yesterday in Los Angeles visiting her sister, Mrs. Avalon Fleming, and with classmates in the California Christian college.

Past matrons of Boyer chapter No. 163, O. E. S. will meet Friday with Mrs. E. J. Browne at her home on North Tustin street.

On October 12, W. H. Lowry will be the leader, on October 19, George Stoner will act in this capacity, with J. B. Wibler, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., in charge October 26.

Mrs. R. B. McAulay is the school registrar.

Travel Talks By Members Planned For Class Friday

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—An interesting meeting planned for the week is that of the Lola Pearson class of the First Presbyterian church Friday evening.

A feature of the meeting will be travel talks by members of the class who have returned from summer trips. Miss Alice Adams is to give one of these talks. The class has recently sent to Allahabad, India, a box of clothing and toys for children at the Higginbottom leper colony at this place. These children are all free from the disease. It is expected that the box, which contained 60 garments, will arrive in India about Christmas time.

BOLSA

BOLSA, Oct. 1.—Norman Ross celebrated his fourth birthday anniversary Sunday so for the afternoon his mother, Mrs. Ralph Ross, invited in a few relatives and friends to enjoy a social hour with refreshments of ice cream and cake served in observance of the event. The birthday cake was in pink and white and bore four pretty candles.

Those attending the party were Norman's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Glade Fuller, and son, Glenn Fuller, and four young playmates, Pauline, Marguerite, John and Phillip Barrella, the honor guest, Norman Ross, his three brothers, Robert, Donald and Russell; sister, Rose Marie, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ross.

ORANGE CITY LIBRARY HAS NEW EXHIBIT

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Missions of Southern California form the basis of an unusually well planned exhibit in the children's department of the Orange public library this week. The exhibit was planned by Mrs. Alpha Cave and was carried out by Miss Elizabeth Palmiter.

A relief map of the state has been made in sand and on this has relief is outlined El Camino Real, with tiny signs marking the position of the missions established by the Franciscan fathers.

At one end of the exhibit is a miniature mission, the work of Richard Stanley, high school boy. The mission is quite complete with vine-covered arcades and cracked adobe walls.

Prints of the missions are hung on the walls and books on California have been selected for the book display.

Books include "Capistrano Nights," by the Rev. Father St. John O'Sullivan and Saunders; "Mission Memories," by John Steven McGroarty; "California the Golden," by Hunt, and "California," by Spadden.

Valley hospital, where he had been a patient for several weeks, was able to be out for a short time Monday. The family is together for the first time in a month, relatives and friends having taken the children at the commencement of Mr. Richardson's illness.

Injuries Hit Saint Gridders

'TOY' BLOWER, GRUMLEY BOTH OUT OF LINEUP

Gerald Allen Oliver, Santa Ana high school's master of football legerdemain, waved his wand today in the hope of producing a Friday set of eleven physically able and active players capable of making some sort of a showing against Roosevelt high school of Los Angeles.

With two veteran regulars definitely out of the fray by reason of injuries and half a dozen "irregulars," but valuable squad men, alling also and probably lost to the squad, there was little wonder the Saint "head man" was dealing in alchemy and moaning "blues songs."

"Toy" Blower, a pretty fair country kind of an end, and Don Crumley, an experienced blocking half-back of two years' training under the Oliver system, will not start against Clark DeGroot's Rough Riders in the game that will be No. 3 on Santa Ana's lengthy and important prep schedule for 1930, and incidentally the last tuneup before the formal opening of the Coast Preparatory league schedule.

Blower is the end who developed rapidly last term and played so sensationally in the Santa Ana-San Diego classic that even hard-boiled critics, familiar with high school flash-in-the-pan, had him tabbed as the best flank seen hereabouts since the days of New Stark in 1921.

His knee was painfully wrenched in the last quarter of the Orange contest last Friday and Coach Oliver will not use him until the Woodrow Wilson quarrel of October 11.

Crumley is favoring a sprained ankle, also suffered in the Orange scrimmage, and will be a spectator at the Roosevelt combat.

Other cripples on the Saint roster are Clyde Birdsong, the Texas back who sprained an ankle in tackling practice Monday; Max Wilson, flaming-haired fullback who is nursing a sore shoulder; Paul Jacques, a promising end who may be through for the season because of an infected knee; and Tom Carlyle, 175-pound working whose leg, injured during the summer, has not responded to treatment.

Concentrate On Backs In addition to these casualties, Captain Al Rebolin, triple threat ace of the club, is feeling none too frisky because of a ball on his arm and Fred Bell and Duncan, a couple of backfield men, have not been out for drill this week for various reasons.

So, instead of worrying about his green and inexperienced line which played anything but good football against Orange, Oliver is concentrating on his ends and backs and hoping he can whip into shape some kind of a representative lineup by Roosevelt game-time Friday.

During a practice scrimmage with Coach Harry Shue's Huntington Beach Oilers yesterday, Oliver for the first time gave serious attention to the backfield possibilities of Hideo Higashi, formerly listed as an end. The "heat man" had Higashi working both at fullback and at quarter, the latter being the "back" position in Oliver's system. Higashi is a hard-running little fellow with lots of animation and would fit nicely into the new scheme were it not for the hole that his absence at end would make.

Give Many Tryout Rebolin, Chamberlain, Higashi and Larabee worked at the back position. Pangle and Higashi divided the duties at fullback. Kent Martin and others were used at inside half with "Red" Kidder, Ralph Gordon and Lee Hamilton at the "outside" assignment.

"Gib" Melsinger, Jim Daneri, Jimmy Lash and Roy Lindsay all saw considerable service at end. There is a good chance that the first two will start against Roosevelt. They are sure to do so if Higashi goes into the backfield.

Lawrence Lutz, who just about convinced Oliver he is the best Saint tackle by his work in the Tustin game, and Lee Hoffmaster, Bill Donahue, Glenn Minter, Joe

Bill Spaulding, Bruin Coach, Will Talk Here

Tomorrow will be "Football Day" at the Lions club. Meeting at St. Ann's inn, the Santa Ana den will hear Bill Spaulding, head coach at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Spaulding has announced no topic but promises to talk football and probably will touch on subjects pertaining to the current Pacific Coast conference championship race.

"Tex" Oliver, Santa Ana coach, was instrumental in arranging for Spaulding's visit. Others on the program committee are Ralph Raitt and Carson Smith.

JOE MCCARTHY TO BE YANKEE PILOT. CLAIM

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—

Joe McCarthy, who resigned as manager of the Chicago Cubs a few weeks ago, will manage the New York Yankees next year. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, confirmed today that McCarthy would replace Bob Shawkey next season.

McCarthy succeeds Bob Shawkey, who became manager of the Yankees after the death of Miller Huggins.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The New York Telegram in a dispatch from Philadelphia today, said that Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, had confirmed that Joe McCarthy, deposed manager of the Chicago Cubs, would manage the New York American league team next year.

McCarthy resigned a fortnight ago after William Wrigley Jr., owner of the Chicago National league team, had announced that Rogers Hornsby would be appointed manager for next season. Hornsby assumed management as soon as McCarthy resigned.

There had been several rumors that McCarthy would come to New York to replace Bob Shawkey.

COOK AND DYE GIRD DONS FOR MENLO CONTEST

The Dons of early Californians may have been chronic loafers but the Dons of Santa Ana junior college football team do not inherit this trait for the large crew of Padres is working madly to be in condition for the "Intersectional" game Saturday at Poly field between Menlo, 1928 jaycee champions of Northern California and runner-up last year, and Santa Ana, champions of Southern California in 1929.

Coach Bill Cook, dynamic head skipper and Coach George Dye, that big 240-pound boy from "down South," are putting their pupils through stiff scrimmages daily and new combinations are continually being tried.

In an amiable mood, Cook gave out some hints of his feelings to corroborate the opinions of many fans who have seen the Dons' two practice games.

Train Hapes to Block Clarence Hapes, big 220-pound Indian fullback from Garden Grove, is proving a sensation in carrying the ball and backing up the line on defense but is sadly deficient at blocking and Cook is strong on the theory that interference running and blocking are ultra important.

The former U. S. C. quarterback was loud in his praises for Harry Clayton, former Santa Ana high school tackle. Clayton played the full game against the U. S. C. Frosh and will likely start against Menlo. Hal Dunham, veteran end, also came in for his share of glory over his Trojan showing.

Big Joe Duncan, 190-pound end, has the makings of a fine player, Cook believes, and the way Duncan handled himself bore out that assertion.

McCoys Shine at Guard Cook's apparent shot in the dark against the Frosh when he teamed up Curt and Kerhit McCoy at guards was a bulls-eye and the two McCoys are considerably higher on the market right now than they were several weeks ago.

In the backfield, Emmett Seacord looks like a most dangerous rival for Wayne Garlock, letterman. Perhaps Garlock had an off day Saturday but his showing was none too good. His kicking was es-

SHOULDER TALK

When George Von Elm decided to turn pro, he didn't mince words. He said he no longer would spurn $10,000 a year in order to have "Mr." read before his name. Von Elm won the U. S. Amateur tournament in 1926.

MACK REFUSES TO REVEAL HIS MOUND CHOICE

BY FRANK GETTY (United Press Sports Editor)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—The 1930 world series, with promise of more drama, more fight and a closer finish than this classic climax of the baseball season has known for a number of years, opened today.

Against a picturesque background of some 33,000 fans in old Shibe park, the Philadelphia Athletics trotted on the field in defense of the world's championship, with the St. Louis Cardinals in the role of challengers.

The American league champions were favored to defeat the National league contenders, but by no such wide margin as have marked the three preceding series.

Canny old Cornelius McGillicuddy, who, after half a century in baseball still likes his little mysteries, refused early today to name his pitching selections for the opening game, but there seemed to be small doubt that the choice would fall on "Lefty" Grove, his ace of aces.

Street Sticks By Grimes On the other hand, "Gabby" Street, manager of the cocky Red Birds, from St. Louis, made no secret of his intentions, and stood by his original selection of stalwart Burleigh Grimes, veteran spit-ball pitcher.

Connie Mack admitted today that he expects a hard fight for the world's championship. "Why shouldn't I?" he said. "The Cardinals showed the stuff they have in them by coming from behind to win out in the National league. My players and I know they're going to be hard to beat."

"Who are you going to pitch today, Mr. Mack?" he was asked. "Yes, it is a fine day for the opening," replied the quizzical old Irishman.

As for "Sergeant" Street, he, too, admitted that his ball club was in for a fight, but he thought it would be a winning one.

Master-Minding? "What is all this talk about master minding?" asked Street, with somewhat the same truculence he might have used against a lowly member of kitchen police during the late war.

"I've been playing baseball since I was eight years old and there hasn't been much change in the game, no matter what league I've been in. I'll be taking a look across at the Athletics' dugout, and if I see Mack pulling any of the so-called inside stuff I'll really be interested to watch him do it."

Betting on the series favored the Athletics at odds of 13 to 10 early today, with little wagering on the outcome of the first game possibly until Mr. McGillicuddy could be persuaded to name his starting pitcher.

It appears as though the handicappers confronting the Cardinals, game as they are, are too great. But they brought more fighting spirit to this game than any of their predecessors of the past three years, and despite the rabid partisanship of Philadelphia fans, there was many a voice raised to cheer them on.

100 SKEETMEN TO HOLD SHOOT IN S. A. SUNDAY

Fully 100 expert skeet shooters from all over Southern California will gather in Santa Ana Sunday to take part in a 100-target contest for a substantial list of prizes. The contest will be sponsored by the Santa Ana Skeet club, the Federal Cartridge company and Chansior and Lyon, jobbers.

Prizes will be as follows: first, 1000 shells and cup; second, 750 shells; third, 500 shells; fourth, 250 shells, and six smaller awards.

Heavy entries are expected from skeet clubs in Los Angeles, Pasadena, La Mesa, Ventura and San Diego. Santa Ana will have a large representation also as more than 20 members of the home organization participated in a qualifying shoot last Sunday.

PASADENA, Oct. 1.—California Institute of Technology will present a team averaging only 145 pounds a man against Arizona University at Rose Bowl here Friday night. Coach "Fox" Stanton is training the team to develop speed as a substitute for weight.

DOEG COMES TO LIFE

Just before the battle at Forest Hills where Bill Tilden was expected to demonstrate once more that he was the master of tennis, John Hope Doeg, a young left-handed player from California announced that he was about ready to quit tennis.

The announcement did not seem of great importance. When the boy from the coast lost two matches to Eddie Jacobs the year before, the experts had buried him. Again, the year before that in the Davis cup trials at Augusta, Ga., Doeg had disappointed. So when Doeg announced he was about to forsake the game, people looked at one another and asked, "What of it?"

Then Doeg, playing a magnificent game, blasted his way through the ranks of the boys at Forest Hills, emerging with the national title.

Will he quit now? Will he quit after beating Tilden and the others?

IT'S IN THE BLOOD

The young man wants to start some kind of business career. He is 21 years old. He may forsake Davis cup play. The other day he told his friends in California that he will compete in only a few tournaments every year. But Doeg is born of a tennis household, and how far he will carry his "business" aspirations remains to be seen. Thoroughbreds don't like to stay hitched to milk wagons.

Mrs. Violet Sutton Doeg is his mother. Her sister, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, is his aunt. They were international stars. Since he was old enough to balance himself on wobbly legs, John has been carrying a tennis racket around. Sometimes it's hard to get things like that out of your system.

PHILADELPHIA SEETHES WITH SERIES CROWD

By MORRIS DEHAVEN TRACY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—The world series, which is as much a part of the American scene as the Rocky mountains or Tammany hall, broke full panopied today over the old Quaker city of Philadelphia.

People came here—and some of them stayed up all night—to see the Philadelphia Athletics of Cornelius McGillicuddy and the St. Louis Cardinals of "Gabby" Street decide which could play the better game of baseball.

Some of them came by family flivver, others by airplane and most of them via the Pennsylvania railroad.

Over the country where the game may be watched for nothing at countless bulletin boards there seemed to be no end of interest. But the so-called "economic depression" made itself felt at Shibe park. Speculators who had an asking price of $100 a year ago, went begging for $50.

The management of the Athletics had to get busy with a telephone company yesterday to dispose of some 8000 tickets left on their hands by fans who had ordered them but had nothing to use for money when it came to paying.

So Philadelphia found itself with a world's series in its lap but without the usual unrestrained flow of money which goes with it. Hotels were willing to let people sleep in their rooms for about the usual price. Restaurants sold a lot of dinners at a dollar and a half. Taxicabs used their regular instead of their holiday meters.

Nevertheless, the series was entirely official and although business won't stop entirely for it this year, there were plenty of marks of its importance. The outstanding event, of course, will be the presence of President Hoover.

Mr. Hoover was scheduled to ar-

Generalized instructions on golf frequently are disastrous because they do not cover the exceptions, of which there are apt to be several in any one round of golf. As an example, one reads sometimes that wood clubs should not be used in bad lies but that irons should be employed. This is generally true, but not always. Regardless of whether or not the player broadly interprets the instructor's meaning, I have seen many players assume that because they have a shot to make in the rough they must use an iron, unless the ball is teed up perfectly.

Frequently when a long shot from the rough is needed, a spoon is the logical club. A spoon in the hands of a player who can handle one is almost as handy as an iron for digging out of all but the worst sort of lies. It also is often the best club to use in thick grass. FERTILE FOOTBALL FIELD

Orange county is yet the fertile football field.

Every way you turn you hear of our graduates cutting the mustard in "big league" company.

Oregon State, invading the Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday to tackle the stiff Southern California Trojans, bring along two erstwhile stalwarts from Santa Ana junior college.

One is Reg Rust, big blond back; the other Herald Hyllton, captain of the Southern California Jaycee champions of last year.

The dope right from the feedback is that Rust is on the verge of running to the sidelines none less than the veteran Cecil Sherwood.

Hyllton isn't listed as a regular but probably will be by the end of the stretch. He is the best tackle to go up with the jaycee conference in years.

"Jeff" Cravath's Denver university creation generates steam for the first time this Saturday, meeting Colorado Mines, a stubborn foe.

Joe Harless of Santa Ana vacationed in the vicinity of Denver late this summer. He tells me that Roger ("Doc") Hearn and Jack Blakeney, former Santa Ana high school captains, have clinched berths on Cravath's first string and will appear in the lineup against Southern California at the Coliseum November 1. Hearn is playing end. Blakeney is in the backfield.

Santa Anans as usual are prevalent on the squads at U.S.C. and Stanford. Jim Music is a Trojan regular and star. Blanchard Beatty, George Lecker and Harvey Durkee are on the varsity squad and Curt Youel is rated as the best center on the freshman roster.

Ray Dawson and "Chuck" Ehrenhorn are Stanford lineemen of note. Bruce Tarver, high school captain last year, has won his spurs at center on the Cardinal yearling troupe.

Fullerton has sent most of its best football players to California in recent years. Seldon Del Giorgio, a tackle, is playing with the varsity now and Oakley Adams, triple threat quarterback of the Fullerton team which won the Southland championship in 1927, is regarded as the star of the Bear freshmen. Archie Thompson, captain of last year's Fullerton prep club, is playing full back for the Bear yearlings.

Vince Philippi, transfer to Stanford from Fullerton junior college, had the misfortune to break his arm in a practice scrimmage. He is lost to the Cards for the campaign. Philippi was a halfback.

Anaheim's leading contributions have graced Santa Ana college ranks for several years, although "Whitey" Marten, a quarterback of considerable ability, is at the University of Washington and Don Baum, a husky tackle, is at Redlands.

THERE'S EDUCATION IN TRAVEL

Menlo junior college, opponent for Bill Cook's Santa Ana Dons here Saturday, go in for their football in a large way.

The Northerners will clash with nine teams throughout this state and will climax its travels in quest of laurels with an intersectional contest at Ogden, Utah, against Weber college on Thanksgiving day.

Menlo has a high-powered coaching corps, too.

Dud DeGroot, Herb Fleishacker, Russ Sweet, Jay Todd and Walter Heinicke are among the "thinking caps" spreading football knowledge among the future disciples of "Pop" Warner.

COUNTY BOXERS ON PARADE Orange county boxers are on parade at various California arenas this week.

pecially poor, although Seacord also got off some bad ones.

Franklin Van Meter looks like a sure starter at one halfback berth because of his efficient and dependable blocking. Van Meter is a quiet, unassuming fellow and does not bob up with spectacular plays but when it comes to taking out the fullback or mowing down the end, he clicks with monotonous regularity.

Captain Al Kluthe is the usual bulwark at center and bids fair to equal his last season record of "playing every minute of every conference game." The six-foot three-inch all-conference pivotman has already played nearly two full games.

Kioshi Shigewaka, sensational Japanese fullback, did not break his collar bone in the U. S. C. game as was first supposed and will be back in suit in a few weeks. Dunham was the only other cripple and he is rounding into condition rapidly.

rive with four members of his cabinet and approximately 44 other men of prominence at 1 p. m. today, he will be escorted through the streets guarded by 700 policemen so that no one will try to sell him any tickets, and taken to the ball park, where everyone hopes he will pitch the first ball.

Next in importance to Mr. Hoover, perhaps, rank a group of fans who are willing to sit up all night to see a $10 dollar ball game for a dollar. They are those in the head of the bleachers line and will be the first to buy from the assortment of 2000 bleacher tickets which were to be offered on sale at the box office this morning—another of the old American customs which marks this event.

SAINTS STARS OUT OF FRIDAY CONTEST

Preininger and Boyle toiled at tackle.

The running guards were Ilard Runyan, Dallas Felchstein and "Bill" Cole and the stationary guards Tom Bessley, Addison Bowers and Garth Olsen.

Preininger, Miner Whitford and Roy Harvey did the ball-snapping at center.

Motor Daredevils In Races Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—A contingent of the nation's leading race drivers will compete tonight in a program of six races at the Legion Ascot speedway here. Arvel Brummier, who set a 40-lap course record last week, and "Shorty" Cantlon of Detroit, second ranking American pilot, were leading contenders for honors in the feature event.

ican welterweight, the best prospect of our entire crop if handled properly boxes at Ontario. He draws Johnny Previs, a pretty fair sort of a boy.

Zenaydo Chavez shows at San Diego Friday against Al Trulmans. Chavez shaded Trulmans in a sensational match last week.

Billy Darnley's capable and colorful protege, "Wild Man" Macias, a sweet prospect himself, battles Joe Cordoza at Wilmington tonight.

This should not be such a tough one for Macias. Cordoza was angled into a tiff at the Olympic with Young Jack Thompson last winter when "Black Jack" was welterweight champion but Cordoza is inclined to fold up when the sea gets rough and it will be choppy anytime the "Wild Man" is on it.

Joe Reese, who might be a champion if he only could punch, is in San Francisco fighting main events. That isn't saying so much these days, however. The fight racket is pretty sick up north. When I was up there last week I was told that $500 "gates" are the rule rather than the exception at the biggest bay clubs since Bear punched poor Frankie Campbell to his death.

LARKIN PLANS TO OPEN STORE HERE SATURDAY

One of the oldest and most widely known hardware dealers in Orange county will open a Santa Ana store in the attractive Smith build-ing, 309 North Broadway, next Sat-urday, offering the most up-to-date stock of electrical appliances and hardware, it was announced today.

Homer F. Larkin is moving from Orange to Santa Ana, where his organization will be ready Sat-urday to meet all the old friends and new who will be served by the store.

"My business in the electrical ap-pliance line has grown to such a tremendous scale that I find that the major part of my annual busi-ness comes from this department," said Larkin today. "After due con-sideration I have decided to open here in Santa Ana, where I will have the opportunity of a larger field, and can serve my cus-tomers in a much more satisfac-tory manner."

"In addition to a modern up-to-date hardware department, filled with 'the last word' in shelf hard-ware, we also are representatives for the O'Keefe and Merritt electric refrigerator, for commercial and domestic purposes; Thor electric washers and ironers, and Sherwin-Williams paints and varnishes.

"We are working night and day to move and arrange our store, and will be ready for our old friends and all the new ones we can make next Saturday morning."

"We will carry a special an-nouncement of the opening of our new store in the Register on Fri-day."

Two Groups Hold Parties At Ritz

The Santa Ana chapter of De-Molays entertained the visiting Long Beach DeMolays with a Ritz miniature golf party Monday, at Putting on the Ritz, new indoor links at Fifth and Bush streets. Thirty-three members and visitors attended and enjoyed several rounds of "minnie" golf.

The Bank of Italy entertained its employees at the course also. About 25 employees and their fam-ilies enjoyed "Bank of Italy Family Night" on the new links. Pars, birdies, eagles and aces are quite frequent when bankers get to-gether on a golf links.

The Federated Malaya States government will open a new short-wave radio station at Kuala Lum-pur.

Supervisors Start Fall Election Machinery Rolling

VOTING PLACES AND OFFICIALS ARE SELECTED

Voting places and election board officials were selected yesterday afternoon by the board of supervisors for the approaching general election next month. Over 1100 persons were named to serve at the 189 polling places throughout the county.

Other action taken at the afternoon session of the board included awarding of the contract for tires and tubes for the county fleet of automobiles to the Sampson Tire and Rubber company, of Los Angeles. This action was taken following lengthy consideration of the award, which originally had been scheduled to be made last week. The contract on which the award was made, as reported by the purchasing department, was $2377.55. This was the lowest net bid that complied with all the provisions of the specifications, including delivery and mounting.

The contract for truck tires was not awarded to any particular firm, the board merely deciding and adopting a minute order to give this business to the various county truck tire distributors.

ANAHEIM GIRL WINS BEACH SCHOLARSHIP

ANAHEIM, Oct. 1.—Doris Campbell has recently achieved further success in music by winning Dr. Friedhelm's scholarship at the Long Beach University of Music.

HUFF JERSEYS GIVEN THIRTY FAIR TROPHIES

The Anapauma rancho herd of purebred Jersey cattle owned by D. Eymann Huff, of Orange, was awarded a total of 30 prizes at the recent Southern California fair at Riverside. This famous Southern California herd captured 13 first prizes out of a total of 16 offered for Jerseys at this show. Likewise this herd won all junior, senior and grand champion prizes for both males and females of this breed. In addition to taking 11 lesser prizes.

Blue ribbon honors were awarded to Anapauma rancho in the classes for bulls three years old or over, two year old bull, junior yearling bull, bull calf, aged cow, two year old heifer, senior yearling heifer, junior yearling heifer, graded herd, young herd, dairy herd, get of sire and produce of cow. Both first and second honors went to this herd in several of the classes.

The grand champion Jersey female was Raleigh's Vera Leigh. Huff's first prize four year old, while the junior champion female honors went to his first prize senior yearling heifer, Financier's Aida. In the bull classes junior champion honors fell to Tapon's Volunteer, first prize in the junior yearling class, while senior and grand champion award for bulls was placed on Anapauma rancho's great two year old, Xenia Sonny.

In commenting on this splendid Jersey show Prof. H. M. King, of the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, who placed the awards for Jerseys at Riverside, stated that Xenia Sonny is the best two year old Jersey bull he has seen on the western coast this year, a bull which he declared to be almost faultless in type. Much commendation also came from this judge concerning the group of best five cows in milk shown by Anapauma rancho, this dairy herd of five females being, according to his declaration, the strongest he has seen this year.

The Anapauma rancho herd has been exhibited this year at five California livestock shows including the Riverside event, and to date has won a total of 148 prizes, including 66 first prizes and 26 championships. Furthermore, every grand championship award on Jerseys has been won by Anapauma rancho entries.

RED CROSS READY FOR FUND CAMPAIGN

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 1.—Important business is scheduled to come before the Red Cross branch here next Tuesday. The regional conference to be held October 14 is one topic which will be brought up. About 100 delegates are expected on that date.

Arrangements are to be made for the annual Red Cross roll call, or drive for members. The co-operation of other organizations is to be sought in making the roll call a success, the directors of the Red Cross branch to take the initiative. The beach protection program has been an outstanding success and is to be brought before the conference here as a model of what can be done through co-operative work.

Extinguish Fire Near Hospital In Spanish Village

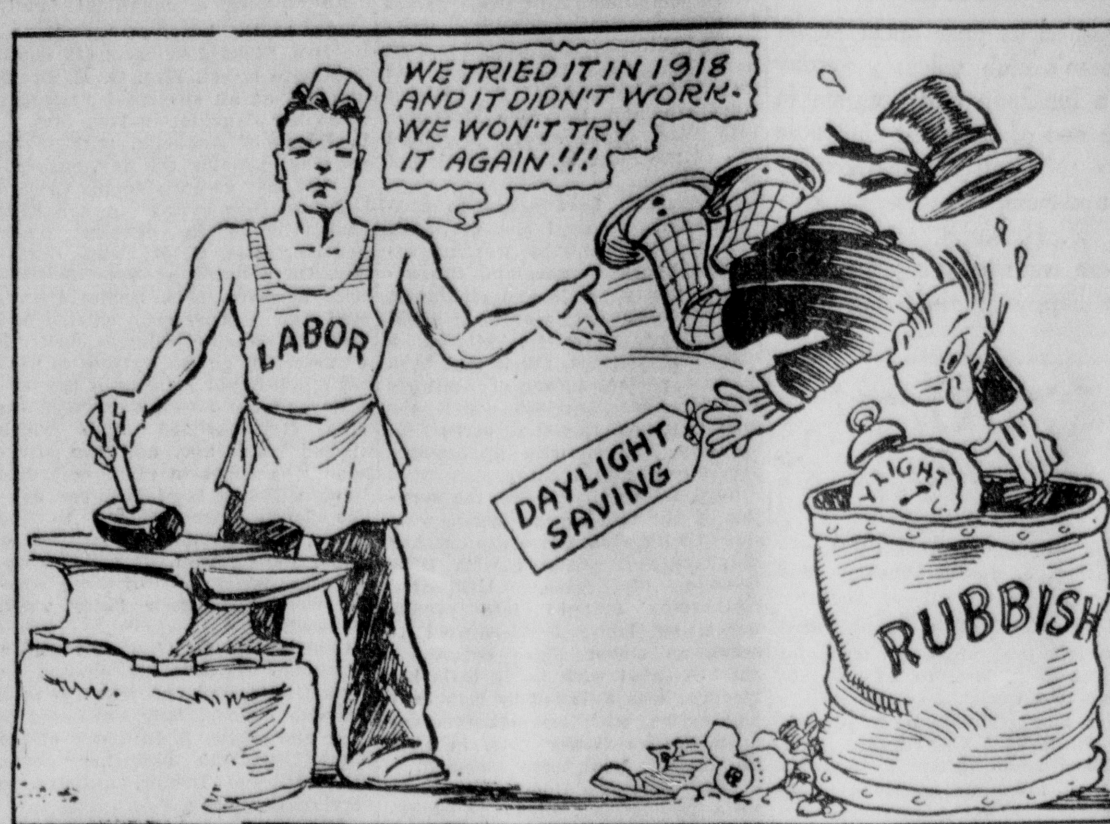

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 1.—The San Clemente hospital was endangered by a grass fire which swept the hills back of the building Tuesday afternoon. The fire department laid hose and kept the flames from approaching the hospital, forcing the fire to the top of the hills.

It was only after a large squad of men with wet sacks battled that the fire was brought under control.

SCHOOL TEACHERS RECEPTION GUESTS

The Orangethorpe Parent-Teacher association held a reception for the teachers Monday evening at the school. Mrs. Gladys Head, principal of the school, introduced the teachers. Mrs. H. S. Coney, program chairman, introduced the speakers and entertainers.

Rosser Williams gave a saxophone solo, accompanied by Mrs. D. Williams. Greenings were extended by Mrs. H. S. Cony. "Loyalty to Our Teachers" was the topic of Roderic Royer; "Our Teachers" was the topic of T. M. Bissett. Arthur Corey, superintendent of Buena Park schools, spoke on "Education at Home." Two vocal solos were given by Stanley Kurtz, teacher of music in Buena Park schools. Interpretative dances were given by pupils of the Clare Coutant Studios of Dancing. Cake, coffee and punch were served by Mrs. A. C. Miller, refreshment chairman, and her committee.

Misstep On Bleachers Breaks Leg

Lee Taylor, of 1247 West Third, a Santa Ana high school sophomore, is confined to his bed as a result of a broken leg suffered last Friday during the Santa Ana-Orange football game, when he fell from the bleachers at the local field.

Taylor's leg was broken in two places, the doctor's report revealed. One break is just above the ankle and the other is just below the knee. At the time of his fall the boy was playing with a friend, and through a misstep he fell from the bleachers.

During his confinement, Taylor plans to study and do home work in an effort to keep up with his class.

LOCAL POTATO GROWERS WILL ATTEND MEET

Potato growers of Orange county will attend a field day demonstration next Saturday on the McSweeney ranch near Temecula, Riverside county, according to Assistant Farm Advisor E. E. Eastman, who said today that a special invitation had been extended to growers of this section.

An outstanding program has been arranged, Eastman said, pointing out that the McSweeney ranch has a large acreage and that experiments with fertilizers and new tillage methods are being carried on there continually and that efforts are being made to improve seed quality.

There will be talks by Dr. D. R. Porter, L. W. Taylor, E. C. Eckman and Roy Campbell. The morning and afternoon will be spent in the fields viewing various features of the ranch. Lunch will be provided at the McSweeney ranch at noon, when most of the talks will be heard.

FAIR GUARDED FROM FIRE BY STATE TRUCK

Urging all visitors at the Orange county fair to exercise particular care in avoiding possibility of fire at the big show, Joe Sherman, Orange county forest ranger, today called attention to the fact that everything possible has been done to handle any situation that might develop, but said that a fire would be a dangerous menace.

One of the new fire trucks purchased by the state for use in forest and rural areas has been sent here from Riverside, where two trucks have been stationed. The apparatus carries a 300-gallon tank of water and ample hose, which can be connected up with the fire plugs on the grounds.

Lloyd Bohner, of Riverside, is driver of the truck, which was brought here through co-operation between Sherman and State Forest Ranger Ed Nelander, of Riverside. Firemen from Santa Ana and other Orange county cities will serve with Bohner.

Because of the sawdust covering the ground, and the nature of many exhibits and the tents housing them, extreme care will be necessary to prevent the possible start of a conflagration, Sherman said.

Underwriters To Meet On Thursday

Members of the Orange County Life Underwriters' association will meet at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Anaheim Elks club, it was announced today by Gene Hays, of Santa Ana, president of the organization.

Will Farrell, chairman of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce insurance committee, will deliver the main address.

CUTTLE, ROLPH SPEAK BEFORE BOOSTER BODY

A warning by Francis Cuttle, of Riverside, that development and growth in Southern California will stop unless the water question is settled satisfactorily, and a promise by Mayor James Rolph Jr., of San Francisco, Republican nominee for governor, that one of the first things to which he will devote attention if elected is the water problem, featured a record meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county at the fair grounds last night.

The meeting began with the usual dinner at 6:30 p. m., which was served to nearly 400 men and women in the fair grounds cafeteria. Dozens of others wished to attend the dinner but could not be served, and the number in attendance was said to be the largest in the history of the organization.

A short talk by Cuttle was practically the only item on the program in the nature of business. Mayor Rolph and Frank Merriam, of Long Beach, Republican nominee for lieutenant-governor, were introduced at the dinner, but did not speak until the crowd adjourned to the grandstand at the fair grounds.

Cuttle is chairman of the tri-county water conservation board, a board representing Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. He briefly sketched the history of water development and water conservation and said that only seven-tenths of one per cent of the water of California is south of the Tehachas. The way the water levels are lowering at present, he said, shows that the people are not developing water, but merely dividing what is left among an increasing number of users. The Santa Ana wells, for example, dropped 18 feet in the last year, and if the present program continues, it will mean disaster, he said.

The speaker concluded by appealing to Rolph and Merriam to make it one of the chief planks in their program of state development and prosperity to work out a comprehensive and coordinated water conservation policy.

La Habra had the largest delegation at the dinner, according to its showing during roll call, when representatives of the various communities in the county stood up.

George Raymer, of Santa Ana, urged those desiring to take the Associated's Mexico excursion to make reservations as soon as possible. He said that already 68 had signed up of the 115 needed. The special train will leave Los Angeles November 29 and return from Mexico City and way points December 14.

Raymer is chairman of a committee of chamber secretaries arranging the trip, and particulars may be obtained from him or the other committee members, V. D. Johnson of Orange, H. M. May of Fullerton, Tom Pickrell, of Placentia and G. C. Macleod, of Newport Beach.

County's Death Rate Below State Average

Orange county's death rate is keeping comfortably under that of the state, it was revealed today. The rate here is 10.9 as compared with 11.9 for the state.

This section is improving its rating, too, for in 1920 its figure was 13.9. There were 1145 deaths last year and in 1920 there were 892. Though the total last year was larger the percentage was decreased by the population gain.

PLAN LUTHERAN AIR PROGRAMS FOR THURSDAY

Representation on the air for the Lutheran church, Missouri synod, with a weekly 30 minute program starting at 7 p. m. tomorrow was announced today in Santa Ana. A coast to coast hookup employing 34 stations will be arranged, in which the nearest for this area is KJLL.

Financed by the Lutheran Laymen's league and the International Walthier league for the Lutheran synodical conference of North America, the broadcast will be known as the Lutheran hour.

The Cleveland Bach chorus, directed by F. W. Strieter, from WHK, Cleveland, will be featured on the first broadcast. Musical portions of later programs will be furnished by the Chicago Bach chorus, Sigfrid Prager, Madison, Wis., director; Edward Rechlin, organist of Immanuel church, New York, and the Concordia Seminary chorus, St. Louis, directed by Dean Walter Wismar, of the Church of the Holy Cross.

The initial series of sermons will be delivered by Dr. Walter A. Maier, of St. Louis. Dr. Maier is professor of Old Testament Exegesis at Concordia Theological seminary, St. Louis, and editor of the Walthier League Messenger, official youth organ of the Lutheran church.

"The Lutheran church is the first denomination to use a paid nationwide network to spread its message," said the Rev. Wm. Schmoeck, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, in commenting on the project. "Just as it was one of the first churches to own its own denominational broadcasting station six years ago. It is estimated that the potential audience of the Lutheran hour is between 50,000,000 and 55,000,000 people."

PENSION BILL SUPPORTED BY S. A. FIREMEN

Presenting a united front in every section of California for the passage of Proposition No. 2, the firemen's pension measure, at the polls November 4, fire chiefs and firemen today began an educational campaign on the issue for the benefit of the voters, seeking to acquaint them with the vital civic importance of the insurance creating legislation.

Members of the Santa Ana fire department are sharing in the state wide campaign. A clear, concise statement on Proposition No. 2 was issued today by Fire Chief John Luxumbourger, who is urging the citizens of Santa Ana to vote "yes" on the amendment. He said in part:

"Though a leader in many humanitarian activities, California is one among a few states in the Union which has not adopted a state governmental system of providing for the welfare of such public employees in hazardous vocations as firemen. It is to be expected that the voters of California will approve Proposition No. 2 whole heartedly once they are familiar with its progressive, humane and utterly fair legislation.

"Proposition No. 2 provides for the allocation of a sum from the state treasury equal to not more than one-half of the money derived from the tax upon gross fire insurance premiums, to be distributed proportionately by the legislature among all local firemen's pension funds; and to the compensatory relief of those firemen both paid and volunteer who are not protected by such local funds. Passage of Proposition No. 2 will not result in one cent additional tax of any character whatsoever to anyone."

George Raymer, of Santa Ana, urged those desiring to take the Associated's Mexico excursion to make reservations as soon as possible. He said that already 68 had signed up of the 115 needed. The special train will leave Los Angeles November 29 and return from Mexico City and way points December 14.

Raymer is chairman of a committee of chamber secretaries arranging the trip, and particulars may be obtained from him or the other committee members, V. D. Johnson of Orange, H. M. May of Fullerton, Tom Pickrell, of Placentia and G. C. Macleod, of Newport Beach.

Writers' Club Guest Reads Entertaining Story

Always interested in the literary inclinations of their friends, Quill Pen members last night found their meeting in the home of Mrs. Marshall Harnois, 414 East W. Main street, of additional value because of the opportunity to hear a story written by a guest, Mrs. R. H. Winchester. Her clever little tale, "Our Secret," was followed by the usual interval of discussion and constructive criticism, just as were the stories read by Quill Pen members.

"Our Secret" dealt with affairs in a young married set, and it was the general opinion of those privileged to hear it, that the tale, written in a style, and the youthfulness of plot, would make it an admirable introduction to a series about the same young people.

Miss Lella Watson read a well constructed story of character development which she had tentatively titled, "Portrait," and which was an analytical study of a character developed through the careful observation of the artist supposed to be relating the tale. Mrs. S. B. Marshall's contribution was a magazine article, "An English Notebook," which found its inspiration in an actual notebook kept by her grandmother when a student of Troy Female Seminary in the year 1840. The article was intriguing with its comparisons of writing styles of that far-gone day and the present, and the touches of quaint humor introduced.

A short story, "Gift of the Gods," re-written by Eleanor Young Elliott after earlier criticism by the club, was read and the story program concluded with an interesting character study by Mrs. Frank Was, whose Victorian little heroine, "Melvina," is one of the favorites of the Quill Pen group.

During the lively hour of discussion and chat of writing and writers which followed, Mrs. Harnois, assisted by Miss Charlotte Harnois and Miss Katherine Baldeen, served a delicious chicken wiggle with hot tea. Her Quill Pen guests were Mrs. Blanche Brown, president; Mrs. Herman Reuter, Mrs. S. B. Marshall, Mrs. Maude Goff, Mrs. N. E. Wells, Mrs. Emmett Elliott and Miss Lella Watson, while Mrs. Winchester and Mrs. Ray T. Brown, both of whom belong to a similar writers' group, the Pegasus club, were entertained as guests of Mrs. Was.

Before the evening closed, the Quill Pen members voted to give the money in their flower fund, $8, to the Register fund for travel expenses in sending a young mother to a Minnesota specialist for a spinal operation.

Miss Nita Buck Was Charming Bride at Church Wedding

Beneath an improvised arch of intermingled smilax and delicate-sweet peas overhung by a swaying wedding bell, Miss Nita Mae Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Buck of this city, and Carl W. Jungkelt, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Jungkelt of Anaheim, were married in the Christian and Missionary Alliance church Monday evening. The pastor, the Rev. C. D. Hicks, officiated. Large baskets of roses, lilies, gladioli and dahlias combined with ferns formed a background for the lovely altar scene.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Fred Hein sang "At Dawning," followed by "O Promise Me," sung by Delbert Brignall of Los Angeles. Then as the sweet strains of Lohengrin's wedding march echoed through the church, with the Misses Nathalie and Evelyn Mustel playing violins and the bride's sister, Mrs. Evah Day, at the piano, the bride party entered. Mr. Jungkelt, his best man, Charlton Buck and the Rev. Mr. Hicks entered at a side door and waited at the altar for the bride and her attendants.

Miss Buck, preceded by her bridesmaids and maid of honor, was a picture of loveliness in a fitted white gown of faille taffeta enhanced by the delicate beauty of point lace. She wore a shimmering bridal veil caught to her hair with fragrant orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of white rose-buds and lilies of the valley, and her only ornament was a three-strand pearl necklace. She was attended by Mrs. Carlton Buck as matron of honor, wearing a green crepe frock and carrying a shower bouquet of shell-pink rose buds and sweet peas.

Miss Irene Schrock was attractive in canary yellow taffeta and carrying a shower cluster of sweet peas. Miss Delta Garlock, next in procession, chose a lovely orchid crepe frock with which she, too, carried sweet peas. Moody Schrock and Paul Jungkelt were ushers.

Two adorable children, Little Dona Jean Buck, niece of the bride, in an apricot frock, and Irene Marshall, wearing green, scattered rose petals in the pathway. Miss Le Eitta Mae Dye, another niece of Miss Buck, followed the flower girls, bearing the ring on a heart-shaped pillow trimmed with lace. Concluding the ceremony, the Misses Mustel and Mrs. Dye played softly modulated notes of Mendelssohn's wedding March.

Mr. and Mrs. Jungkelt spent Monday night in Anaheim with his parents, and yesterday left on their honeymoon trip to Kansas. On their return they will make their home in Los Angeles where Mr. Jungkelt is employed. The couple first met in the Angel City when they were attending Bible Institute there, each remaining for a two-year course.

Newlyweds Were Feted On Arrival From Honeymoon

Having arrived home from Arizona where they took their wedding vows, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller were comfortably established in their home on Collins avenue in Orange Sunday evening when they discovered they were the objects of a charivari. Mrs. Miller was formerly Miss Vernia Ware of Tustin.

The first exciting moments of the surprise affair over with, guests and honor guests embarked on an evening of conversation and games. At a late hour the newlyweds displayed their pleasure in the presence of their friends by serving an appetizing refreshment course.

Those sharing the pleasant affair with Mr. and Mrs. Miller were Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Ware, Mr. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Miller and baby. Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Thompson, the Misses Ruth Hannaford, Hazel Elton, Mildred Ware, Mildred Haskell, Florence Thompson, Wilda Kelams, Eleanor Hoag, Marie Schirven, Mrs. Eunice Reed and Messrs. Albert, Cecil and Elmer Farnsworth and Kenneth Curi.

WOMAN'S CLUB OPENS SEASON WITH ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

If ever a club organization opened its year under happy conditions, it was Santa Ana Woman's club which yesterday launched its year's activities with a luncheon and program in the Y. W. rooms, that proved to be one of the most enjoyable sessions in club history. Members were all so unaffectedly glad to greet each other after the mid-summer recess, the cordiality of the new president, Mrs. W. H. Kuhn, and her official board, was so warm, and there were so many members out, that the occasion was like the happy reunion of a large family.

Luncheon at 12:30 o'clock not only provided a happy social hour, but it also offered a most inviting menu of home-prepared foods planned under the direction of Mrs. William West, Mrs. William Castler and Mrs. Walter Moore, and served cafeteria style.

The big assembly room of the Y. W. was the scene of the afternoon program, presented under the direction of Mrs. Charles H. Stanley, Mrs. M. J. Marks and Mrs. I. D. Annis. Mrs. Kuhn, assuming her office as president, made a gracious little talk, in which she said that the whole dictionary was filled with beautiful words to express her sense of happiness in meeting the club in such a manner, but that she needed only the words in her heart.

President's Welcome
In outlining her plans and hopes for the year, she called attention to the flourishing arts and crafts section launched under Mrs. Howard Clemens and expressed the hope of forming a drama section for the giving of little plays, and of continued work for "I want the county to bring us new ideas, and to teach us to think more deeply on those we have already adopted," she explained in naming Miss Octavia Goldworthy to lead short devotionals at the coming year's meetings.

Mrs. A. P. Nelson, state industrial and social chairman in addition to her duties with the Costa Mesa Woman's club, told of the activities of her state department, and the manner in which she wished to work on industrial problems for the women over 40, and for young girls.

Charming Music
Mrs. Chancery Moore (Marjorie Warner), the daughter of one of the prominent members, Mrs. E. G. Warner, gave a delightful song group, with Miss Carrie Seaton playing her accompaniments in the pleasing manner that always distinguishes Miss Seaton's piano work. Mrs. Moore's voice is so clear and sweet, and her tones so limpid, that her singing has always been a joy to her friends. Her songs yesterday were no exception, and included the widely varied numbers, "Japanese Lullaby," "Little Pickaninny Kid," and "Mother My Dear."

Miss Nancy Elder, Y.W.C.A. secretary, was chief speaker, and held the close interest of the audience as she talked on the work and ideals of the Y.W.C.A., its value in the community, and in the lives of the young girls of the city.

On Y Work

"The young girl and her development and welfare are the important things which we wish to stress, and not the Y.W. itself," she explained, and outlined some of the local activities such as the Girl Reserves, the work with the young Mexican girls, and the Wrycende Maegden, that club of interested and intelligent young business girls. "Our work is not for, but with the girls," she stated emphatically, in painting a graphic picture of the manner in which the club rooms enter into social and religious life of the girls. She also outlined the gymnasium, swimming and health programs fostered by the Y and informed the clubwomen of the hours in which the Y.M.C.A. equipment was given over to the women.

Miss Alicia Baird, a guest of Miss Goldworthy, presented a health service plan which she is fostering in this city, and Eleanor Young Elliott gave an impromptu reading.

One of the outstanding things of the afternoon was the free will offering given by the sympathetic clubwomen to the needy young mother whose life must be forfeited unless the sum of $500 can be raised to send her to a Minnesota spine specialist. Fifteen dollars was given within a few minutes' time, to be added to the fund.

Mrs. Kuhn announced the first program meeting for Tuesday, October 7, in the home of Mrs. H. S. Pankey, 815 North Broadway, where Mrs. Sarah Ward and Mrs. Ada Vandermaast will have charge of the travelogue program and will present a special speaker. Mrs. Whitehead also announced the county federation board meeting in Laguna Beach on Monday, October 6, while announcement also was made of the southern district board meeting in Ontario on October 10.

With so many foreign pictures in production, the old joke about "yes men" has been revised. "Rosita Moreno, Paramount's importation from Spain, says they're 'mu bien hombres.'"

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wright, 2320 Riverside drive, left today for a visit with friends in Ventura.

Pythian Sisters Give Successful Party

Achieving an enjoyable as well as a successful afternoon, Santa Ana Pythian Sisters yesterday entertained at a public bridge party in the social rooms of the K. P. hall, with Mrs. P. N. Chapin, Mrs. J. D. Sanborn and Mrs. Roy C. Butler comprising the committee complimented on the party's success.

A cheerful note was sounded in the decorative effect, for the hostesses had arranged great baskets of the most brilliant of the autumn flowers, with quantities of vivid tapers glowing like autumnal sunlight.

The pretty prizes were won by Mrs. James P. Ryan, scoring high, Mrs. C. H. Powers, second, and Mrs. Robert E. Smith, with the lucky door number. In serving the home-made cake and coffee of their refreshments course, the committee members made the small tables attractive by using slender bud vases, each holding one perfect rose.

The party was the first of a series to be given through the winter months, as a means of raising funds for the Pythian Sisters' welfare work, and the next one will be in the final week of October.

Mother and Daughters Present Original Gift Shower

In complimenting Mrs. James Day (Doris Scofield) with a post-nuptial kitchen shower of recent date, Mrs. Otto M. Hoffman and her two daughters, the Misses Elizabeth and Gertrude Hoffman, 1035 West Sixth street, presented one of the most original parties of the autumn.

Guests had been asked to conform to the general idea of "come into the kitchen," by wearing informal house-dresses, and the array of pretty prints and gingham, was a domestic style show in itself. The home, however, offered a luxurious contrast, for it had been made a perfect bower of Amling's Premier roses, amidst which the guests joined in the series of amusing games, with appropriate prizes to the winners.

Card tables placed for the serving of the two-course menu, were spread with pink and white checked gingham and centered with little baskets of roses. Utilitarian clothsplins stepped into prominence, by being hand-painted to serve as clever place cards. A chicken salad with fluffy little hot biscuits, was followed by rich cake and coffee, with ice cream served in miniature flower pots, in each of which a pink rose bloomed.

Miss Gertrude Hoffman, dressed as a farmer lad, made an unexpected appearance, escorting a stately guest contrived from a broom costume in various kitchen articles, all the work of Mrs. Arthur Day. The unique gift was presented to the delighted young honor guest, together with a clothes-basket of generous size, overflowing with green and ivory kitchen utensils, gifts of the guests, who also contributed tested and favorite recipes to the bride.

Guests accepting the hospitality of Mrs. Hoffman and her daughters, the Misses Elizabeth and Gertrude Hoffman, were the honorees, Mrs. James Day, her mother, Mrs. S. J. Scofield, Mrs. Paul Oppelt, Miss Ruth Juhlin, Mrs. Lenora Kneeland, Santa Ana; Mrs. Arthur Day, Mrs. John Freitas, Miss Juanita Freitas, Mrs. Maud Glanville, Orange; Mrs. Eva Rhoades, Miss Leona Rhoades, Huntington Beach; Mrs. Louis Everts and Miss Virginia Leach of Long Beach.

Birthday Anniversary Observed With Two Lovely Affairs

Anticipating a delightful family dinner in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Cribraro, 439 South Sycamore street, Mrs. G. E. Bruns was not at all surprised yesterday when her daughter-in-law, Mrs. L. Bruns of Anaheim, with whom she was spending the day, suggested that they go early to the Cribraro home so they might enjoy a little chat prior to the evening affair honoring Mrs. G. E. Bruns' birthday. On arriving at their destination, however, Mrs. Bruns discovered that a conspiracy existed and that her daughter's home sheltered a number of guests waiting to wish her many happy returns of the day.

Most of the guests were members of a Neighborhood club which started years ago, and the afternoon was spent in most enjoyable fashion. Bright hued pom-pom dahlias lent attractiveness to the rooms. In a guessing contest, Mrs. F. W. Mansur won the prize. A social time while some of those present worked on their fancy work, followed.

Concluding the afternoon was a delectable refreshment course, an attractive feature of which was a birthday cake prettily decorated in pink and white. A daughter of the home, Elizabeth and her chum, Miss Mildred Bueter, assisted in serving the menu.

With evening hours came the family dinner party with Mr. and Mrs. Cribraro as hosts. A low bowl of pom-pom dahlias centered the table where pink appointments were carried out. Another pink and white birthday cake was also a feature of the dessert course. The family group enjoyed a social time following the delectable dinner.

Those present at the family affair other than Mr. and Mrs. Cribraro and daughter Elizabeth, were the Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bruns, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bruns and daughter Helen, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bruns, of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Bruns and daughter, Virginia, of this city.

Those present at the afternoon affair other than Mrs. Cribraro, Mrs. G. E. Bruns and Mrs. L. L. Bruns, were Mesdames P. A. Robinson, P. J. Jayne, F. W. Mansur, A. M. Gardner, D. Eymann Huff, E. B. Sprague, B. Krohn, E. E. Keech, P. W. Bruns, Harry Bueter, of this city; Mrs. Lee Love and Mrs. Milton Andros of Los Angeles, and Mrs. E. E. Gould of Orange.

Boys' Chorus Shares Pleasant Birthday Observance

Keith Kavanagh's birthday anniversary was observed in interesting fashion on a recent evening when his mother, Mrs. Charles C. Kavanagh, was hostess in their home at 475 South Grand avenue, Orange, inviting her son's associates in the Boys' chorus as guests. She was assisted in her pleasant duties by Miss Lorene Croddy, director of the chorus, and Miss Marian Brownridge.

A delightful program was planned, and the first number was a reading by Junior Kavanagh, who also favored with a dance. Bobbie Alexander and Thomas Croddy continued with a duet and Hugh Plumb gave a reading. A song by Lewis Riehl was the concluding number.

The Halloween motif which was carried out in the decorations of the refreshment course as well, for cloths and napkins in orange and black designs decked the small tables. Tapers continued in the brilliant effect as did candy favors wrapped in shining paper and tied with black ribbons.

Those present other than Mrs. Kavanagh, Miss Croddy, Miss Brownridge and the honor guest, Keith Kavanagh, were Junior Kavanagh, Bobbie Alexander, Walter Limbaugh, Thomas Croddy, Ed and Bob Pankey, Hugh and Peter Plumb, Junior Sudbrook, Lewis Riehl, Homer Hannaford, Billie Leinberger, Bernard Fields, and Edwin Flemming, of Inglewood, a former member of the chorus.

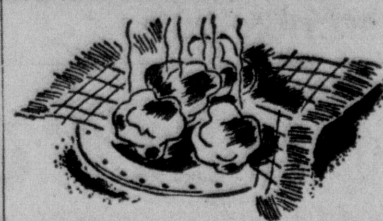

Mrs. Clifford Cole Complimented at Charming Party

When Mrs. Homer Cole was hostess yesterday afternoon at a charming affair honoring her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clifford Cole, her home at 1602 North Main street sheltered a glorious array of the season's choicest blooms as gifts of a number of friends of the family. One especially exquisite bouquet was presented by the honoree's mother, Mrs. Porter C. Edmunds, dahlias and zinnias predominated, and lent a brilliancy of color that the more modest-tinted flowers rivalled in their own behalf with a delicate fragrance.

Bridge was played, and when scores were added on the clever little tallies carrying out the stork motif, Mrs. Asa Hoffman was rewarded for high score. Mrs. Maude Swarthout, for second, and Mrs. Earl Morris was consoled. Refreshments were served at the small tables centered with crystal baskets of pink sweet peas. Nut cups, conformed to the chosen color scheme. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Willard Swarthout and Mrs. Harold Carnahan. With the conclusion of the course Wendell Delavan Cole, Mrs. Clifford Cole's little son, entered the room with a lovely bassinet, the gift of Mrs. Porter Edmunds, which was overflowing with a collection of presents for the honoree.

Those sharing the affair with Mrs. Homer Cole, hostess, and Mrs. Clifford Cole, honoree, were Mesdames M. J. Hoffman, E. D. Cole, Porter C. Edmunds, Maude Swarthout, Paul Carnahan, Frank Hoffman, Asa Hoffman, James Dixon, Willard Swarthout, Oscar Carothers, Harold Carnahan, Leon Lucky, Bryan Ruddick, Oscar Blake, Mrs. James Johnndrew of Colton, Mrs. Ernest Cole of Culver City, Mesdames John Zulauf, H. R. Boyd, Clyde Tattou, Earl Morris and Dean Smiley, Master Bobby Dean Smiley and the Misses Eunice Hoffman and Genevieve Owen.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

Spice and Span and Lavender Scented

It is just as easy to be dainty and neat in one's housekeeping methods as dirty and don't-care.

Under the category of the latter I place clothes closets that look like a "hurray's nest" (whatever that may be), fuzzi left under beds, untidy bedrooms and tumbled, none-too-sweet linen closets. That cleanliness is next to godliness is all too true. . . the dirtiest boy living hesitates at tumbling into the crisp sheets of a well-made bed, especially if the bed has about it the clean spicy odor of lavender.

Why not overhaul your linen closet and give it all it is entitled to? You may come back at me and say you haven't time to waste in making the pads to hold the lavender. That may be true but I am sure that you have the time to wipe out the drawer, line it with clean shelf paper, cut to come up three inches on all sides. On this paper put a thin layer of cotton sprinkled with lavender seeds and orris root, cover it with more cotton, and over it put another sheet of paper cut just to fit drawer or shelf. Put a little paste on the edges of the lower sheet and fold down over the pad and there you are, a clean linen closet, perfumed to last the winter through.

TODAY'S RECIPE
NEVER FAIL DILL PICKLES
2 quarts fresh cucumbers
2 heads fresh dill
3 tablespoons salt
1 cup cider vinegar
3 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spices.

Dill pickles can be put up in one batch in a large jar and be all the better for it. Just keep them tightly covered and skim off the scum that comes on the liquid after the jar is opened.

Use cucumbers all of one size, wash them thoroughly, and drain. Pack them into a wide-mouthed, half-gallon jar; as they are packed, sprinkle the chopped dill and the salt through the cucumbers. Mix the salt, vinegar and minced garlic and pour over the cucumbers.

Add the pickling spices, fill the jar to overflowing with cold water, and screw on the top. Turn the jar, end for end, every second day until you are sure the salt and spices are well blended. The pickles are ready to eat after two weeks.

A good sized pickle has so few calories they hardly are worth talking about. Pickles are valuable because they stimulate appetite, at least they are said to be valuable for that reason, but actually an embargo ought to be placed on their use by those people whose appetites need to be curbed rather than stimulated.

Cake Breads, the current leaflet has many interesting recipes for your use. These breads keep well, and they fill so many places you will enjoy serving them, to say nothing about the fun it is to make them, and the way noses point towards your spicy kitchen when the bread is baking.

A stamped, self-addressed envelope mailed to me all this week will bring this leaflet to you free of charge.

Dark Sunshine Cake, a paradoxical delicacy, will be the subject of tomorrow's lesson.

ANN MEREDITH.

Y. W. C. A. Will Open Children's Classes

Beginning October 4 at 9:30 a. m. children's gym classes will be opened in the Y.W.C.A. building. All children between the ages of 4 and 8 are eligible, and must register before Saturday morning, according to an announcement made by Miss Maude Moore, health education secretary. Classes will be continued weekly.

A number of physical education phases will be considered, including instruction in singing, games, dancing, rhythm and posture training. Anyone interested will please telephone the Y.W.C.A. at 2081.

Y. W. C. A. Big Sisters Welcome Frosh Girls At Supper Program

Enjoying the hospitality of their "big sisters," Santa Ana Junior college freshmen girls assembled in the Y hut on the campus Monday night for their first Y.W.C.A. meeting of the semester when they were guests of the older group at a supper served cafeteria style.

Group singing was led by Miss Elsiebell Hurd, and Miss Irene Whisler led devotionals. An introduction of the cabinet was made by Miss Vernell Butler, president. Each officer spoke of the duties of her office and invited those interested to serve on her committee. Miss Butler also introduced the advisers, Miss Mabel Whiting, Mrs. John Tessimann and Miss Zena Leck.

Miss Elsiebell Hurd, vice president and membership chairman, announced that a membership drive with a goal of 125 members, was to start immediately and end on October 22, when the recognition service will be held. Assistant Miss Hurd will be the Misses Marian Parsons, Geraldine Cole, Maybelle Ball, May Hasenjaeger, Evelyn Parks, Margaret Crane, Miriam Samuelson, Hazel Hushman, Betty James, Eleanor Wisner, Joanna Day, Audrey Teel and Jean Anderson. Miss Helen Estock, house and grounds chairman, told of the coming "Y retreat" at Camp Emma Otis near Modjeska's next Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Miss Marian Parsons announced that discussion groups would be held in the city Y.W.C.A. rooms or at the home of Miss Dorothy Cartwright, Girl Reserve secretary, at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoons. As Miss Maybelle Ball has been unable to carry on her secretarial duties for the organization, Miss Elizabeth Riniker was elected to take her place.

Miss Joanna Day, program chairman, presented Miss Dulcie Green who, accompanied by Miss Florence Thompson, sang numbers, "Roses for You" and "The Sunshine of Your Smile." A piano number, "Manhattan Serenade" was given by Miss Thompson. Miss Mary Mater accompanied by Miss Eva Ramsey presented two violin solos, "Estrellita" and "The Swan." A clever skit was put on by those who had attended Asilomar, the Misses Elsiebell Hurd, Vernell Butler, May Hasenjaeger, Jean Anderson, Joanna Day and Marian Parsons. These girls told of their trip and their stay at Asilomar in an interesting and humorous fashion. Miss Gail Andrews told of some of her experiences as a "stuck-up" at Asilomar, and stated that during the eight conferences of her stay all stressed international friendship as their theme.

Concluding the program Mrs. John Tessimann told of the founding of the Y.W.C.A. on the campus and explained that through the organization girls on the campus were brought into contact not only with each other but also with other junior colleges so that Santa Ana Jaycee was no longer so isolated.

Present last night were the Misses Eva Ramsey, Shirley Truman, Jane Cunningham, Lois Wagner, Bernadine Bastian, LaVonne Olsen, Elsiebell Hurd, Opha Coulson, Jean Anderson, Catherine Harwood, Marjorie Adams, Theima Glascock, Betty Wiswall, Ada Marie Hendrickson, Evelyn Parks, Audrey Teel, Gail Andrews, Lois Read, Zelma Smith, Hazel Hushman, Rosaline Schilling, Luella Koons, Dorothy Dunbar, Florine Pollock, Margaret Putnam, Helen Hendricks, Florence Stanley, Virginia Warner, Florence Thompson, Eugenia Gire, Dulcie Green, Velma Bishop, Marjorie Arundell, Neva McDonald, May Hasenjaeger, Maybelle Ball, Eunice Bragg, Eleanor Wisner, Myra Bragg, Esther Cockerman, Margaret Crane, Doris Boles, Maida Stillwell, Marie McGinnie, Vernell Rutler, Mary Mater, Irene Spilman, Lucille Crawford, Geraldine Cole, Donna Crawford, Dorothy Baier, Elva Cook, Alice Myers, Margaret Westover, Ruth Brubaker, Velma Witt, Joanna Day, Helen Estock, Leona Stine, Blanche Potter, Elizabeth Skiles, Juliette Taylor, Irene Whisler, Louise Forbes, and Miss Mabel Whiting and Mrs. John Tessimann, advisors.

Y. W. Classes Are Yet Open to Entrants

Having embarked on their new fall schedule for gym classes of all kinds with Miss Maude Moore as a welcome addition to the corps of workers at the Y. W. C. A., it was announced today by Miss Dorothy Cartwright, Y. W. Girl Reserve secretary, that registration for a number of classes is yet open.

Tuesday's classes offer an assortment of interesting and worth while subjects, and both the morning and evening groups have room for more entrants. Swimming classes start at 7:15 in the evening, gym classes every half hour, and the morning group continues in its usual schedule at 10 o'clock. For additional information, call the Y. W. C. A. at 2081.

Tustin Families United Through Wedding Vows Spoken In Arizona

Uniting two of Tustin's well known families was a wedding of Friday when Miss Verna Ware, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ware, and Harry Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller, motored to Phoenix, Ariz., and were married. They spoke their vows in the First Presbyterian church.

The bride chose a smart sports ensemble in blue and white dotted silk crepe for the occasion, and wore a snug fitting hat in harmonizing tone. There were no attendants.

Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Miller continued to Superior, Ariz., where they enjoyed a brief visit with Mrs. Miller's aunt. They returned to Tustin Sunday expecting to reveal the delightful news to their many friends, and discovered that some little bird had related the tale and their return was much anticipated. The newlyweds are making their home in Orange, and Mr. Miller is employed at the Utl. Juice company in Tustin. Both are graduates of Tustin union high school, and their marriage culminated a school day romance which began four years ago. Mrs. Miller recently completed her course at the Business Institute and Secretarial school, and her husband will go to night classes until he gets his diploma.

Granddaughters Were Hostesses at Natal Day Observance

Her seventy-fifth birthday anniversary was a happy occasion for Mrs. Anna Blanchard who was honored at a delightful party in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Blanchard, 329 East Washington avenue, Monday afternoon when her two grand-daughters, Mrs. Jack Scott and Mrs. Darwin Scott were hostesses.

A variety of autumn flowers adorned the rooms, and formed a colorful setting for the diversions of the afternoon, flinch and 500. There were no prize awards, and all enjoyed the informality of the games. Adjoining to a nearby room, guests shared in Mrs. Blanchard's pleasure when she opened the many interesting looking packages presented her. An appetizing refreshment course concluded the pleasant afternoon.

Those present, other than the hostesses, Mrs. Darwin Scott, Mrs. Jack Scott and Mrs. Blanchard, and the honoree, Mrs. Anna Blanchard, were Mrs. Andrew Hansler, Mrs. C. P. Kryhl, Miss May Knight, Miss Madge Ashley, Mrs. H. S. Platt, Mrs. Carrie Watson, Mrs. C. O. Romsdal, Mrs. E. Green, Mrs. Mary Sanderson, Mrs. Mary Blanchard, Mrs. Robert Blanchard, Mrs. Alice Scott, Mrs. F. A. Hall, all of this city; and Mrs. Charles Blanchard and Mrs. Harold Blanchard of Redlands, Mrs. Clifford Blanchard of Buena Park and Mrs. E. R. Storer and Miss Florence McCoy of Los Angeles.

Formal Tea Was Lovely Affair Of Sunday

The gardens and hoods of the Jo Lowell home on Lowell street formed a charming setting for a formal tea of Sunday afternoon when members of the Tau Sigma sorority, with Miss Charlene Lowell as one of the hostesses, sponsored a rush party. The Misses Eleanor Rairdon and Loretta Spangler presided at the tea urns. During the afternoon, Miss Margaret Gaeb, talented young reader of the city, gave a number of readings, accompanied at the piano by Miss Marjorie Walton. Adjoining to the grounds of the home, with the patio a welcome retreat, guests enjoyed a round of cards.

Among those present were the Misses Ruth Owens, Elma McBride, Barbara Rurup, Louise Rurup, Loretta Spangler, Helen Rairdon, Shirley Marble, Eleanor Rairdon, Frances Vielra, Martha Wallingford, Margaret Guard, Betty Wiswall, Marcia Huber, Marguerite Lentz and Charlene Lowell, as hostesses; and the Misses Armine Crawford, Bernice Summers, Julia Thorndike, Lillian Newman, Margaret Gaeb, Ethel West, Betty Maloney, Marjorie Adams, Mary Lynn Wade, Eunice Hoffman, Betty Dutton, Dolly Sarah Boyle, Florence Turner, Helen Stauffer, Frances Brown, Marjorie Walton and Ada Marie Hendrickson as guests.

NANCE O'NEIL COMING HERE IN BIG SHOW

Nance O'Neil, one of the greatest emotional actresses on the American stage, plays the grim, tragic, repressed "Myra" in Inspiration-United Artists "Eyes of the World," the Henry King directed screen drama being shown at the Fox Broadway theater Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss O'Neil, long one of the most familiar theatrical figures, plays this stark, gaunt woman of mystery with rare artistry and skill. "Eyes of the World," which was adapted from the novel by Harold Bell Wright, is a bitter-sweet romance set in the virgin mountain ranges and valleys of California and contrasts the simple ethics of a mountain girl with the selfish purpose of a designing woman.

Heading a cast that was chosen with especial reference to ability are Una Merkel, John Holland, Miss O'Neil, Brandon Hurst, Hugh Huntley, Fern Andra, Frederic Burt, William Jeffrey, Florence Roberts, Eulalie Jensen and Myra Tilbert.

It is the personal impression of Clarke Silvernail, the distinguished New York actor and stage director of literary plays, that the international art of pantomime must resolve itself into the national pastime of acting before the screen can accomplish a distinct literature.

"SEA WOLF" WITH MILTON SILLS HERE

Jack London's greatest story, "The Sea Wolf," read by millions and seen on the screen as a silent picture by more, is now showing at the Fox Broadway theater as the latest all-talking Fox Movietone drama.

Milton Sills, whose unexpected death occurred several days ago in Hollywood plays his final role in the film. Curiously his last words in the film are, "I'm dying, but I'm not weakening."

The story of a hard boiled sea captain, who gets his crews through the shanghai method, a story of hate and greed and of bitterness, "The Sea Wolf" is a strange story. It tells of the hatred between two brothers, both sea captains and the battles they have whenever they meet. It tells of romance, between a shanghaied youth and the girl who follows him to sea.

"The Sea Wolf" is taken mostly on the high seas. The sea pictures are wonderful, while the acting of Sills is probably the best he ever did for the screen.

DEMILLE'S "MADAM SATAN" SHOWS HERE

Thrills, color, clever dancing, tuneful songs, and an absorbing story of an affectionate husband and a too-perfect wife make Cecil B. DeMille's "Madam Satan," which opened at the Fox West Coast theater Monday, an attraction of great entertainment merit.

It is DeMille's second M-G-M picture, and his first with music. The story concerns the marital differences of Bob and Angela Brooks, a masked ball aboard a Zeppelin at which an exotic and mysterious "Madam Satan" appears, the mid-air crack-up of the airship, the descent of the husband of guests via parachute—all linked together with songs by Herbert Stothart and Clifford Grey; Jack King and Elsie Janis; and the dance creations of Leroy Prinz, borrowed from Earl Carroll's "Vanities."

The principals are Reginald Denny, who sings with power and force; Kay Johnson, a perfect "Madam Satan"; Roland Young as Denny's blundering friend, and "Trixie," ex of the vaudeville stage, the modern and gold-digging "other woman." It has all the exotic feel of a typical Cecil B. DeMille production. The story is by Jeanie MacPherson with dialogue by Gladys Unger and Elsie Janis.

BODY OF SUICIDE LOCATED ON BEACH

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Oct. 1.—(UP)—A search for Mrs. Marguerite Fox, 29, former secretary to Jeanie MacPherson, prominent scenarist, ended last night when the woman's body was found on the beach here.

Mrs. Fox disappeared September 23, leaving a note to her husband, a motion picture sound engineer, indicating she contemplated suicide. Apparently she leaped into the ocean from one of the piers, police said.

"DANCING SWEETIES" AT WALKER STATE

Bearing a screen story both novel and new, "DANCING SWEETIES," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production featuring Grant Wither and Sue Carol comes to Walker's State today.

Adapted to the screen from Harry Fried's original story, it is one of the most gripping and humanly moving dramas of modern youth yet depicted in talking pictures. The story concerns a young couple who are mutually dissatisfied with their home life, and who, on the spur of the moment, decide that a hurried marriage would provide independence and happiness. The result of their matrimonial plunge is not what they expected.

EMIL JANNINGS IN "OTHELLO" HERE

Emil Jannings as Othello fires the imagination.

The film version of Shakespeare's greatest tragedy, "Othello," with the popular German star, Jannings, as the dusky hero, opens tonight at Shelley's Third and Bush street house, as a special attraction for three nights only.

Perhaps no photoplay in recent years has received such unanimous praise from the recognized critics of the world as has this picturization of the immortal drama from the pen of the greatest playwright history has record of.

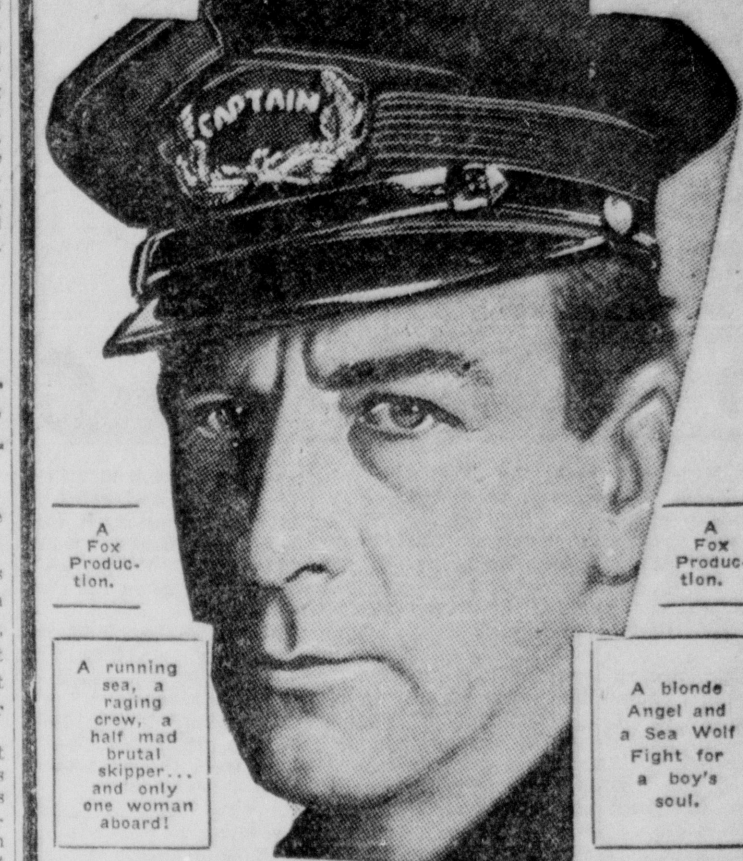

Direction, photography and settings are all of the romantic quality that lends its intangible glamour to the entire production; and all in all, Jannings' interpretation of the tragic Othello must be acclaimed as one of his finest achievements.

In the first five months of this year Egypt exported nearly $65,000,000 worth of cotton.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

At Montreaux all the Tinies stayed up in the hotel yard and played up rather late that evening. It was beautiful outside. The moon smiled down from above. Said Scouty, "This is what I love. Let's count the stars." And promptly, that is what each Tiny tried.

"There are so many in the sky, I'm sure I cannot count that high," exclaimed wee Clowny suddenly. "I think I'll have to stop. The rest of you can go ahead, but I'll just take a rest instead. I'm going to watch one great big star and see if it will drop."

"It seems, at night, if it is clear that stars shoot round throughout the year. I've often seen one take a trip and it is heaps of fun." And then he wrinkled up his brow and shouted, "Look! One's shooting now." The Tinies all watched it and then began to run.

This made the Travel Man laugh loud, said he, "You are a funny crowd. You cannot catch that little star. You may as well not try." This made the Tinies all stop. "We wished to see where it would drop," said one, "but now we're certain it won't fall down from the sky."

They went to bed that night and then at morn were on their way again. "This time we'll head across the lake upon a lovely ship," explained the friendly Travel Man. So to the boat the whole bunch ran. "Course Lake Geneva was so nice, it made a lovely trip."

The boat was very lovely, too. The Tinies found a heap to do. "We're going to Geneva," said the Travel Man. "And then, when you all reach that lovely spot, you'll be surprised, as like as not. The town is on this lake and you can take a swim again."

Missing Letter Links

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change on word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

SQUEALS GIVE ALARM

EVANSVILLE, Ind., (UP)—The squeals of nine pigs being transported in the luggage compartment of a couple led to the arrest of Oscar Maynard, 21, and Elmer Hutchinson, 22. Two policemen, hearing the squeals, were at first puzzled over the source of the noise. They stopped the car and investigated. It was charged the hogs were stolen.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Most failures are due to misfits."
—JESSIE LYNCH WILLIAMS, author.

A WORD OF THANKS

Some wise man once said that Christmas, instead of being but one day in the year to be celebrated with feasting, rejoicing and giving, was in reality a daily event, since Jesus Christ is daily born anew in the hearts of some of His children. We feel that our community exemplifies this statement, for the Christ spirit of giving, freely and gladly, has been manifested here in the past few days, when old and young, needy and wealthy, the wage-earner and the retired executive, the home provider and the home keeper, have joined in a wonderful expression of good will to man.

You have read, all you true but unknown friends, of the young wife and mother doomed to a sad death unless help could come to her soon in the form of an operation to heal a broken back and its resultant partial paralysis. And you have proven your friendship and sympathy for one in such extreme need, by hastening with your gifts large and small, to add to the sum required to pay her traveling expenses back to Minnesota and the specialist who will add the gift of his skill to your gift of traveling expenses.

For thanks to the scores and scores of sympathizers in our community, The Register, whose part in this beautiful story of humanity, was only to bring the case to your attention, proudly announces that in four days' time, the needed sum of $500 has been raised by Santa Ana and Orange county sympathizers.

We speak proudly, but the pride is not for ourselves in any way. Our part was too small. The pride is in our community and its people, who disregarded their own needs, turned a deaf ear to the prevailing cry of "hard times," and shared their all with one in greater need than they.

And Christ said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me."

WHY DO THEY DO IT?

A group of executives of local charitable agencies sat in conference the other day. They were discussing the problems of relief work which confront them this fall, in view of the unemployment situation. These are problems which are met by the agency executives in behalf of the people of the community.

"It is going to be a hard season," said one. "There are people actually in distress who ordinarily are employed and able to maintain themselves."

"Those are not the ones that bother us most," suggested another. "My trouble comes with the 'professional tourist,' who takes his family and travels the country, depending on getting his support from the charity of the town he stops in."

"That complicates it," said the first speaker, "but our task still remains to help those who deserve it, and weed out the grafters. Most of our people honestly want work, and hesitate to accept charity. The best help we can give them is a chance to earn a living. If people would let us know when jobs are open, either permanent or temporary, it would help a lot."

And so these executives went into conference for a heated hour, trying to figure out better plans for using the funds at their disposal, so as to help the deserving and save the public money. The problem is no more theirs than any one else's, except that they are in positions where charity is administered, and being charged with this responsibility, they are trying to do their best to represent all of us in benevolent works.

The County Welfare Department, the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, the Veteran's Welfare, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are called upon daily to help those in need. The County Welfare work is supported through public funds. The other organizations look to the Community Chest. All of them are working to provide adequate and efficient relief. They do it because it is their task, allotted to them in behalf of the public. They do it better as organizations than we could do it as individuals. Our best contribution to charity is made when we place in their hands the funds with which to work.

"Thieves Steal Sheet Music"—Headline. In double-quick time probably.

GERMANY ACTS

Germany is going into the cutting of expenses with a vengeance. It is probably the first time in the history of the world when a government, without a revolution, cut the pay of its chief executive. But from the president down, everyone, who is paid by government funds, receives a reduction in income. More than that, the government, which has been providing for unemployment and old-age insurance, is shifting the burden for the insurance upon the workers themselves. It is estimated that $240,000,000 will be saved by this procedure, and budget increases are forbidden for three years.

Serious conditions require heroic measures. In the time of depression, the incomes of many business men are reduced; many business men fail; labor is unemployed and receives less income,—why should not public officials have salary cuts which would aid the taxpayers in times of serious depression?

This incident in Germany might be valuable to suggest what our Congress might do, even if called in special session for that purpose. A ten per cent cut might be made of Federal employees, which would run into millions, and we apprehend that the government will need it next year. It will not be done, because after all, the country itself is not in distress, in spite of the fact that some of the people are.

M. BRIAND SPEAKS OUT

It must have been a dramatic hour when the French Foreign Minister, Aristide Briand, addressed the League of Nations at Geneva yesterday. In the light of the news from Germany, where the Fascist leader Hitler has outlined a plan that involves aggression against foreign powers, with a knowledge that the extremists of Germany are increasing in number; and with the same spirit prevailing in some degree in Austria; Briand rose to make his speech on the question of disarmament.

Briand has been the advocate of disarmament just as far as France dare go, and has co-operated well with our own State Department in bringing about the Kellogg-Briand peace pact. Undoubtedly, Briand is sincere. There is probably no man in France who has the confidence, not to say the regard of the German leaders, as Briand has. And so when he turned to the German delegation, with the pathos and spirit with which only Briand can speak, and said:

The peoples of the world must not disarm in order that new wars may be prepared and new dangers created. They must disarm in such a way that they will not be victimized. It must have had a deep effect upon the German delegation, as well as all of the representatives in the League.

As a matter of fact, probably the German delegates, themselves more or less disturbed if not alarmed at the political conditions in their own country, feel themselves unable to speak with any degree of certainty as to what the course of Germany will be ten years or even five years hence. They know that it is very possible that Briand's fears have better foundation than they would dare to admit, even if they believed them. With conditions in Italy as they are, and in Austria and Germany, saying nothing about Russia, it is little wonder that Briand in his patriotic desire to protect France, and at the same time in his desire for world peace, should speak as he did.

When he said, "When other nations which are armed have remained armed, have not we who are faced with a dangerous future the right to reflect?" it might well have an effect upon the other nations that have remained armed. It is to be hoped that this address of Briand's, rather than simply justifying France or any other nation in continuing armament or in increasing it, will be the means of starting a stronger counter-movement toward the spirit of peace and the disarmament of those nations which have not been emphasizing it in their national plans.

Parents of the kidnapped 16-year-old New York girl who were ordered to send $10,000 ransom money by carrier pigeon have a right to say, if anyone has, that money has wings.

FAMILIARITY BREEDS CONTENT IN FLYING

Familiarity and proximity make the feat of Harold G. Higbee, even more interesting than are such accomplishments in the air usually. Mr. Higbee took off, in a glider, from the top of Mount Wilson. One of the finest features of his flight was that he landed exactly where he announced that he would land, and that in spite of poor visibility. He covered twenty miles in a zig-zag course, landing at Baldwin Ranch, ten miles by air line from his starting point.

Even to those who are as yet land-bound and cannot think of such a flight without a shudder, Mr. Higbee's flight has a meaning for every successful trip through the air makes flying more sure, more safe, more practical, less of an undertaking.

After reading Colonel Lindbergh's "We," flying seemed as easy and safe as it did to little children who saw "Peter Pan." Another book of the same order is "Flying Gypsies," an account of the pleasure jaunt of Countess de Sibour and her husband. They left England in a tiny moth plane for Indo-China where they planned to do big game hunting. The trip was made by a series of hops over France, Spain, Morocco, Tripoli, Egypt and Arabia. The Countess de Sibour doesn't belittle the hazards of their voyage to any great extent because she wants to emphasize the adventure element, but it is notable that their flight was hardly more hazardous, spite of the fact that it was over some of the worst flying country imaginable, than was an automobile journey through certain countries when automobile travel was in its infancy.

As lowly as his job is, the road laborer takes pride in the fact he is paving the way for future generations.

SIR THOMAS WILL TRY AGAIN

Sir Thomas Lipton before he sailed for England the other day said that he would try again for the trophy he has coveted so long. In so saying he reversed the decision against a further attempt to wrest the victory from the Enterprise, which he felt immediately after the races was peerless. His decision to try again, he said, was influenced by America's reception and by the subscription for the sportsmanship cup.

In a letter to Mayor James Walker, of New York, in which he indicated that he would try again, he said: "... we Scotch-Irish, or Irish-Scotch, whichever way you prefer it, do not easily give up, and I think I can best answer the generous spirit in which your people have received me by saying that I hope to be back before long for another try."

Sir Thomas said that his next competing yacht would need a metal mast like that of the Enterprise, though he ruefully observed that such a mast would cost $40,000. Sir Thomas will return to America after five days abroad, for the presentation of the sportsmanship cup which is now being designed.

A WORD OF AGREEMENT

"There are lots of people who committed crimes here last year who would not have done so if they had been fishing."—President Hoover.

Although Hoover, and Coolidge, and Cleveland, All addicts of rod, reel and line, Ran first in the race for a prominent place Which will probably never be mine, There's a peace in the soul of an angler That removes any impulse toward wrath, And he never can stray to the tortuous way Or fall to pursue the straight path. The music that's made by the rattle and fall Never sings to the heart filled with rancor and gall.

Though my quest for the trout or the salmon Where the granite walled cataraacts race, Has aroused in my heart not a wish to take part In the struggle for power or place, I fancy the croon of the ripples, And the glint of the rainbow-hued spray, And the kingfisher's cry as he flutters close by May have kept me from going astray. The soul that is soothed by a mountain brook's song Is a soul that will never go very far wrong.

Far away from the turbulent city And its riot and racket and roar, Far away from the rush and the press and the crush, By the side of a water-lapped shore There is balm for the wayward and restless From care there is blessed release; In the whispering trees there is comfort and ease, In the blue of the sky there is peace, And the trail that winds 'round where the swift waters flow Leads the fisherman's steps in the way they should go.

Does Lavish Spending Really Help the Poor?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

A man who signs himself a "Constant Reader" of these daily articles has just written us a burning letter of protest. He takes issue especially with what we said recently about "Lavish Spending."

We contended that in the midst of business depression, even the recent hundred-thousand-dollar wedding on Fifth Avenue helped the poor.

Our critic disagrees. He points out that the spending of money for orchids, laces, and diamonds, tends to bring about the production of more orchids, laces, and diamonds. In this contention, he is right.

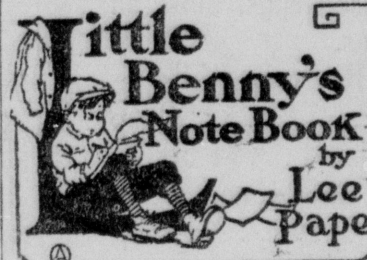

"This means," he says, "that labor is employed in making luxuries for the already surfeited rich, rather than in making necessities for the needy poor." Again he is right.

He goes on to say that it would increase the sum total of human happiness if some of the labor which now enables the rich to compete in conspicuous waste were so directed as to enable the poor to live in inconspicuous comfort.

No one can shake down that kind of argument. It is built upon solid rock. An additional hundred dollars spent by a poor family buys more satisfactions than an additional thousand dollars spent by a rich family. The more anybody spends, the less happiness he is likely to achieve per dollar spent. This is one of the many laws of diminishing returns.

But, for better or for worse, the immediate question is not whether the rich shall turn their surplus funds over to the poor. The immediate question is whether the rich shall themselves spend more, or save more.

We contend that, now, at this time, they are trying to save too much. They are saving more in various forms of capital than the country is able to use. The country cannot use more capital—and more labor—until there is more spending. Right now, therefore, more spending on the part of the rich—even lavish spending—means more employment and more buying power for the poor. (Copyright, 1930, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Pop was studying the list of automobile questions so he would know what to answer when he went to take the examination to get his drivers license, saying to ma, ignorants may be bliss, but if you don't get to work and study these questions and answers you'll never get your drivers license.

Well ask me some more questions, ma sed, and pop sed, Yee gods you're suppose to know these answers just as their printed here, you're not suppose to make up new ones of your own, no matter how brilliant they are. For instants this one about reckless driving. What constitutes reckless driving? he sed.

Nothing could be more simple, ma sed. Its reckless driving, for example, if you try to read and drive at the same time, and its also reckless driving if you drive with your eyes shut, even if your not axually asleep, he sed.

Very true, and a mastery conception, no doubt, but the correct answer is that reckless driving consists of carelessly or wilfully disregarding the rites and safety of others and endangering life and property, pop sed. And thats the only answer the examiner will be satisfied with, he sed.

How can you tell? ma sed. Quite the contrary, if I give him my own original version he will probably be so pleased to find a person at last thinking for themselves that he probably give me my license without even bothering about any more questions, she sed.

Yours properly rite about his not bothering to ask you any more questions, pop sed.

Meaning he would know alreddy he wasent going to give ma a license.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

SCIENTIFIC POLITICS

Science puts a disturbing challenge to American democracy as America enters a phase of its development calling for the utmost co-operation between the leaders of government and the leaders of the business and industrial system that science and the machine have produced.

The challenge of science to democracy may be stated somewhat as follows:

The life of modern America has been created by science.

That is to say, the machine economy of America, the whole material set-up of American life, and the attitude of the average American toward his non-political interests, have been, in the main, created by science.

But the public affairs of America are, in the main, controlled by democracy.

It may be over-simplifying the matter a bit, but I think it is decently accurate to say that modern America has been created by the spirit of science and is being controlled by the spirit of democracy.

The future of America will depend upon the working relationship that can be established between these two spirits.

The American future will be bright if they co-operate.

The American future will be black if they conflict.

To date science and democracy have been two gigantic forces that have tended to cancel each other and rob American life of the maximum possible contributions of both.

There are many existing antagonisms between the methods and motive of science, on the one hand, and of democracy, on the other.

Our problem is to bridge this chasm between science and democracy by creating a new American politics that shall be simply our technique for bringing the world's best knowledge to the service of our people and to the solution of their problems.

We do not want—and we must not allow—the knowledge of the scientist to languish for lack of political power or the power of the politician to run amuck for lack of scientific knowledge.

All this may seem to some but a high-brow speculation, but I insist that the practical future of the American social and economic order depends upon our meeting this challenge.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE SUCCESS HABIT

children and they fall again and again we make mischief. Failure makes nobody happy. Happiness is necessary to power. Then we must see that we help a child to success if we are to establish habits of industry and a desire to achieve.

When a child fails again and again he reacts according to his temperament. Some children retire within themselves and refuse to say a word. They hide from strangers. They refuse to answer when the teacher asks them a question. They have decided to hide their failure from the world. We wonder what ails them and call them timid, shy, sensitive.

Some children cover their failure by loud boasting. "I can jump a fence as high as a house," said one, the morning after he had experienced disaster in school. Another, just to show that he wasn't so behind hand as they thought he was, jumped into the deepest part of the creek and dived for a stone. If he couldn't do long division he could dive better than anybody.

Sullenness and obstinacy are often caused by failure. "I can't do the things they want me to do so I won't do anything." That attitude is hard to combat but when you read the cause as fear of failure it is easier.

Scale the task to the ability of the child. Make sure that his first efforts in any field are successful even though you have to give him a lot of help. Keep at it until he has a feeling of power. Then you can let him go on alone.

When you see anything is hard for a child do not call attention to it. Slip quietly to his side, lend him a hand, see him safely over the hard place, watch again for next time, and the next until you see that all fear has left him, then let him go his way.

This holds good in every field. School and home, wherever the child may be. But especially remember it is true in social situations. All children have the power to enter a room and make the people there know that he is at home with them. When you see a child shying away from company, help him. Let him carry in a tray of refreshments. Let him bring in a cushion, or a chair, or pet. If he cannot enter alone accompany him. Once in, with something definite to do—speech comes later, he will get by safely.

Do not call attention to him. If he does not speak, let him alone. A smile is greeting enough. Talking about his shyness adds to the cause—his fear of making a poor figure, and you have made a bad matter worse.

Set the stage for success. Give the child a habit of success and half the battle is won. Fit the task to his ability, always allowing room to stretch, and let him succeed. Failure oft repeated is dangerous. (Copyright, 1930, The Bell Syn., Inc.)

BIRTH OF LAWRENCE

On October 1, 1781, James Lawrence, noted American naval officer, was born in Burlington, N. J.

At the age of 12 he entered the United States navy as a midshipman and by the time he was 21 was made a lieutenant. He first attained attention in the war with Tripoli when he served second in command to Decatur on the expedition to burn that captured Philadelphia.

By brave conduct he rose rapidly. In 1811 he was promoted to be captain and was placed in command of the Hornet. Two years later, after an engagement of 15 minutes, he captured the British brig-of-war Peacock. For this success he received a gold medal from Congress and was placed in command of the Chesapeake, then lying in Boston harbor.

Several days after taking command, he attacked the British frigate Shannon, about 30 miles off Boston. After a bloody battle, Lawrence was mortally wounded, the Chesapeake captured and Lawrence taken to Halifax, where he shortly died. While being carried below during the engagement, he uttered the words "Don't give up the ship," which became a motto in the navy.

"Nothing."—Der Lustige Sachse, Leipzig.

OBLIGING WAITER

DINER: Waiter, I'll have a pork chop with fried potatoes, and I'll have the chop lean.

WAITER: Yes, sir; and which way?—Tit-Bits.

NO WONDER!

POLICEMAN: Who was driving when you hit the other car? SLIGHTLY INTOXICATED CAR-OWNER: None of us, we were all in the back seat!—Passing Show.
